Federal Relief To Be Extended Unemployed Women

THOUSANDS TO GET AID THIS WINTER

Resident Schools to Furnish Food, Shelter and Teach New Professions

JOB TO BE CREATED

800,000 to Millions Women and Girls Jobless Estimated by Government

(Copyright, 1933, by United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(UP)—The federal emergency relief organization today extended a helping hand to hundreds of thousands of unemployed women and girls throughout the nation.

The attack on unemployment among women was two-sided:

1—Establishment of "resident schools" where girls and women will receive food, shelter and clothing while learning new trades or professions.

2—The creation of thousands of jobs in federal, state and municipal institutions, financed from $400,000,000 recently allotted to the civil works administration by the public works organization.

Heretofore little has been done to relieve conditions among unemployed women. Regular relief funds were available to those in dire need, but plans to create jobs for women and girls were shunted aside in the battle to give work to the heads of families on relief rolls.

Situation Acute

Meanwhile the situation became increasingly acute. It was estimated there were between 800,000 and 1,000,000 women in the nation without jobs.

Federal Relief Administrator Hopkins appointed blue-eyed, suburban-laid, middle-aged, Ellen S. Woodward as director of women's work for his organization.

Mrs. Woodward and members of her staff evolved the two plans which they believe will meet the situation until economic conditions become such that the nation's offices, factories and mills will reabsorb their women employees.

"The 'resident schools' are to be established everywhere they are needed. Some cities will have several. Others where the unemployment problem is not so serious.

RUSS RECOGNITION BY FRIDAY FORECAST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(UP)—A successful conclusion to negotiations for American recognition of the Soviet Union before President Roosevelt leaves Friday for a vacation at Warm Springs, Ga., was hoped for in administration circles today.

Foreign Commissioner Maxim Litvinov held himself ready for conference either at the White House or state department. It was indicated that resumption of formal conversations depended possibly on word from Moscow, or some new overture by this government.

Involved in the negotiations were the broad subjects of debts and claims, propaganda and trade, with negotiators on each side officially silent. It was thought likely that on both sides study was being given technical points raised at Litvinov's Sunday night conference at the White House.

That Takes A Big Load Off Our Mind

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(UP)—Regarding the sting of a bee, the Smithsonian institution reported today:

1—It's not only painful, but it's complicated.

2—It requires the action of 22 muscles, some of which must act simultaneously.

3—The bee doesn't take aim, and doesn't need any particular skill. "Stinging is largely an automatic act."

4—But to be effective, the bee must sit down on the victim, "because the exposure of the shaft is the greatest as the direction of the thrust approaches a perpendicular to the axis of the body."

GOVERNOR MAY CALL SPECIAL ELECTION SOON

Liberalization of Liquor Control Laws May Be Left to People

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 14.—(UP)—A special election may be called to liberalize California's liquor control laws, Governor James Rolph said today.

Expressing the opinion that present rules, prohibiting public serving or drinking of any liquor except beer and wine, would cause speakasies to flourish, the executive said regulatory laws should be changed to permit hotels and restaurants to serve liquor. There should be greater local control and a possible schedule of taxes, he believes.

Under the present constitutional provision, approved by the voters in regular election last November, only beer and wine may be served publicly; hard liquor may be purchased only by the bottle, and must be consumed in the privacy of home or club; the state has the sole power to enforce and administer the laws, local option measures being superseded by the constitution; the only tax provided is a two-cents-a-gallon levy on beer and wine, which the board of

STATE PREPARING NEW RELIEF MOVE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 14.—(UP)—State participation in a new federal relief program was planned by Earl Lee Kelly, director of public works, today as he instructed district engineers to list six or eight public construction projects in each county for submission to the United States bureau of public roads by November 20.

Additional work on highway projects will be made possible by a new $50,000,000 program designed to provide jobs for 4,000,000 men before January 1. Individual projects may cost $5,000 or less, and may include drainage facilities, widening of shoulders and curves, fencing, right of way, cleaning streets and trimming trees.

GOVERNMENT GOLD PRICE UP 11 CENTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(UP)—The government today raised its price on newly mined American gold to $33.58 an ounce from the $33.45 level of yesterday. The price was an overnight advance of 11 cents an ounce.

Today's Washington price was 3 cents above the world price set in London today.

The London price today was 128 shillings 7 pence, off 6 1-2 pence from yesterday. On the basis of the early high exchange rate for the pound sterling ($5.21 1-2), this was equivalent to $33.53 a fine ounce.

The dollar, in gold, was worth $1.59 cents as compared with $1.70 cents yesterday.

Huey P. Long Called Liar At Inquiry

Head of Woman's Organization Seeking to Oust Solon Gets Irate

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—(UP)—The "lie" was hurled at U. S. Senator Huey P. Long here today during resumption of the senate committee's inquiry into charges of fraud in the Overton-Broussard primary.

"That's a lie; you never fired my husband in your life," shouted Mrs. Hilda Phelps Hammond, head of the woman's organization seeking removal of the Long regime from Louisiana politics.

Long had testified that he had fired Hammond from two state jobs paying $400 monthly each, and when challenged by Mrs. Hammond, replied:

"I'll prove it if that's what you want."

Senator M. M. Logan, acting chairman of the committee, pounded for order and the argument was dropped.

The chairman then questioned Long about the use of "dummy candidates" in the primary in which Senator John Overton defeated Edwin S. Broussard.

"Yes, we used dummy candidates," said Long, "but so did the other side. Broussard would have been licked anyway as he has no personal following in the state. The people who voted for him were against me."

Discussing patronage Senator Long said:

"We gave jobs to the people who supported us. We practice politics in Louisiana like they do every place else. The jobs go to our friends."

"But a dozen 'patronage votes' aren't worth one farmer vote. Every time we gave one man a job we made 10 enemies. I wish we didn't have any patronage at all. We'd be better off."

MURDER SUSPECT IS HELD IN OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 14.—(UP)—A man believed to be Vergil Brown, ex-soldier who left Fresno, Calif., with Mrs. Marie Elmsley, 40, a few days before her battered body was found near El Reno, Okla., last month, was arrested at Shawnee, Okla., today.

Shawnee police, advising the state crime bureau by telegraph, said Mrs. Elmsley's missing automobile and pet terrier were recovered at the time of the arrest. The slain woman was prominent in society at Windsor, Ont.

O. P. Ray, superintendent of the crime bureau, said the message from the chief of police at Shawnee identified the automobile recovered as that of Mrs. Elmsley, by means of the California license tag 3V7763 and the motor number.

FRENCH WINE MEN WORRIED OVER TAX

PARIS, Nov. 14.—(UP)—French wine men hoped today that an American proposal to impose a 100 per cent tax on wines from countries that do not pay their war debts would prove just a joke.

News of the proposal came when the head of the Mumm champagne interests was on the way to the United States to prepare the way for entry of his product, and while Prince Guy de Palignac, of another important champagne house, prepared to sail tomorrow.

There was great shock among all wine men that such a proposal should even have been conceived, and they were not inclined to comment formally.

COL. LINDBERGH MAY MAKE NON-STOP FLIGHT TO N. Y. FROM LIBSON, REPORTS SAY

(Copyright, 1933, by United Press)

CALDEAS DE TUY, Spain, Nov. 14.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was believed today to be contemplating a possible return flight to the United States, either by a southerly route, or by a spectacular non-stop route. He would fly alone should he decide to attempt the flight.

Mrs. Anne Morrow Lindbergh, it was known, is making plans to return by steamer. Lindbergh himself was silent regarding his final plans.

There was some conflict concerning the colonel's reported statement to United States Consul Renwick S. McNiece that he intended to fly back, "non-stop" to New York, presumably with Lisbon as his starting base.

Correspondents had asked the consul whether Lindbergh would make a stop at the Azores, and quoted him as saying "No, he will fly direct."

McNiece later indicated that he had not intended to speak "officially" of Col. Lindbergh's plans.

The interpreters who translated McNiece's remarks to Spanish newspapermen said, however, that the official definitely said Col. Lindbergh intended to return by air, without stopping at the Azores.

YOUNG HART'S HUGE SINCLAIR PROFITS BARE SON'S RELEASE IN COMMITTEE

Appeal Directly to Kidnappers to Open Confidential Negotiations

SAN JOSE, Cal., Nov. 14.—(UP)—The wealthy parents of Brooke L. Hart, twenty-two-year-old "model son," appealed directly today to his alleged abductors, to open "confidential" negotiations for his return after five days of extensive police activity failed to reveal trace of the curly-haired youth who disappeared last Thursday.

The message made public by the anxious parents did not state whether the $40,000 ransom demanded in the only message from the kidnappers would be paid.

Both Alex J. Hart, department store and hotel owner, and Mrs. Nettie B. Hart signed the appeal for the return home of the youth who the father said "neither drank nor gambled" and who had been a "model son." The mother has been under medical care since the alleged abduction last Thursday.

The parents' message read:

Issue Appeal

"To the kidnappers of Brooke L. Hart: We desire to negotiate for his return personally or through any intermediaries who might be selected. When contact is made we will of course want evidence to prove that Brooke is held by you. All negotiations will be considered confidential by us and we will allow no interference from any outside force."

The gray-haired, stocky-built father gave the statement to the press personally. Representatives of newspapers and press associations were asked to be at the Hart home at a designated time.

When they arrived, police on guard at the place ushered them in to a spacious reception hall. The reporters faced a wide staircase, at

ACTION TO RELEASE BANK FUNDS URGED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(UP)—New action designed to speed the release of hundreds of millions of deposits in closed banks soon will be urged on President Roosevelt by Senator Pittman, Dem., Nev.

Pittman proposes that the president take over the assets and pay off depositors in National banks which closed despite efforts of the Reconstruction Finance corporation to aid them and which cannot be reorganized quickly.

The senator expects to see the president within a few days, and urge his plan with special reference to Nevada banks in which nearly 90 per cent of the state's deposits have been tied up for a year.

All efforts to reorganize these banks appear to have failed. The R. F. C. now holds most of their liquid assets as security for a loan which was insufficient to keep the banks open.

ALFRED SMITH TO VISIT ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(UP)—Alfred E. Smith planned to visit President Roosevelt at the White House today when he came to Washington to attend a meeting of the board of trustees of Catholic university to which he was elected last spring. Scheduled to accompany the former New York governor was John J. Raskob, former Democratic national chairman.

John F. Curry, leader of Tammany hall, was in the capitol last night, but denied he would join the White House conference. Curry also denied he had made any peace overtures to Postmaster General Farley, on a possible peace treaty between New York Democratic political factions.

Supervisors In Approval Of Proposal

No Protest Filed Against Petition Bearing Names of 100 Freeholders

APPROVED this morning by the board of supervisors the proposition of forming a harbor improvement district and voting of $640,000 in bonds for improvement of the harbor will go to a vote in Orange county and be on the ballot for the special election called for December 19.

Hearing on a petition signed by approximately 100 freeholders of the county and registered voters was scheduled this morning and the approval of the board was given when there was no protest either verbal or written. The district, if approved by the voters, will be known as the Orange County Harbor District and will make possible the spending of approximately $1,800,000 in developing Newport bay as a semi-commercial and yacht harbor.

James L. Beebe, of the firm of O'Mahony, Tuiler and Myers, Los Angeles bond attorneys, who prepared the legal steps leading up to this morning's hearing explained the entire matter to the board of supervisors and said that should the district be formed under the Harbor District Act of 1927 it will have no power to issue bonds other than the $640,000 issue for which it was funded.

No More Bonds

The district will continue, he said for the purpose of levying taxes for repayment of the interest and principal of the bonds but can ask for the passage of no more bonds. The supervisors will have the power under the act to levy additional taxes for maintenance but this power already is vested in the board under the bond issue of 1929 and has never been used.

Beebe also stressed the fact that upon approval of the bond issue by the voters the bonds cannot be issued unless the government appropriation of approximately $1,600,000 is made.

Under the present agreement the federal government will expend one half of the amount required for the development work as a river and harbor project. Orange county must provide the other half

WOMAN, BELIEVED KIDNAPED, FOUND

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 11.—(UP)—Mrs. Mary Gestford Lott, 77-year-old wealthy San Francisco woman who has been missing since March 10, was located today in the home of C. C. Keefer, automobile salesman, in Altadena, police announced.

Keefer telephoned officers today that he believed the woman a man left in his care some time ago was Mrs. Lott. He said he had not known she was sought until he read of the case in the newspapers.

Frank J. Golden, attorney, today on a charge of kidnapping growing out of Mrs. Lott's disappearance. Golden was arrested yesterday in court.

METEOR SHOWER IS DUE AT MIDNIGHT

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—Hundreds of astronomers, amateur and professional, will watch tonight, Wednesday and Thursday for the long overdue rain of fire of Leonid shooting stars.

It is just 100 years ago this Wednesday night, after midnight, that thousands of these meteors an hour blazed across the skies. They are due three times a century, and this week Wednesday may be the lucky night, despite the fact that the astronomers calculated last year as the real time, providing the long lost meteors were back on their old trail. The shower will appear in the northern sky after midnight.

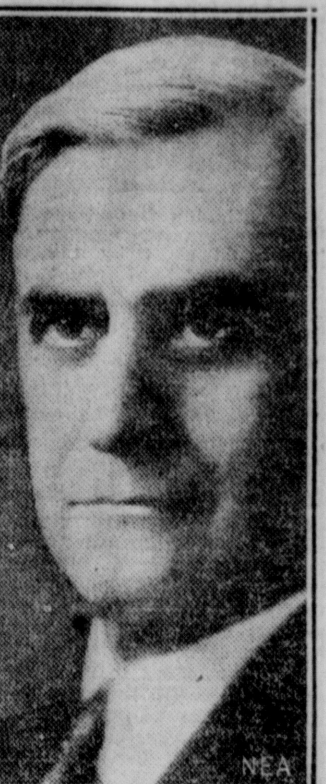

ATTACK TAX PLAN IN APPEAL COURT

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 14.—(UP)—Problems of limitation provisions in California's new tax plan, ratified by the voters last June, were under consideration of the appellate court today after Stanislaus county taxpayers brought a test case in an attempt to set aside the county's 1933-34 rate.

The petitioning group contended the county supervisors exceeded the five per cent increase limitation fixed by the Riley-Stewart plan. The excess, $130,000 amounting to 20 per cent, they charged.

Twenty counties, said to have exceeded the plan limitation, may be affected by the appellate court's ruling, expected in a few weeks.

OPER A SINGER GIVEN DIVORCE FROM PRINCE

Mary McCormick Granted Decree Without Contest; Settle Property

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—(UP)—Reciting a list of alleged acts of cruelty, Mary McCormick, opera singer, obtained a divorce today from Prince Serge Mdvan.

Miss McCormick won the divorce without contest. A property settlement was reached and Mdvan withdrew his counter-suit for divorce. Terms of the property settlement were not made known, though it was believed to have involved oil properties said to have been financed in the names of Princes Serge and David Mdvan by Miss McCormick and Mae Murray, film actress, who recently was divorced from the elder brother.

Miss McCormick was evasive when questioned about her reported engagement to Harry Bannister, actor.

"Mr. Bannister is and would be a perfect fiance," she said, "but I have said nothing about marriage." She made no effort to conceal a gold bracelet on her wrist, on which was engraved "Harry Bannister," but she would not say whether it signified anything beyond a certain "fond friendship."

On the stand, Miss McCormick proved an emphatic and unhesitating witness, except when it became necessary for her to repeat some of the recital she said her titled husband directed toward her.

"He would get mad about little things and fly into terrific rages," she testified.

STATE WATER PLANS HIT BY STATE C. C.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—(UP)—In a statement signed by C. C. Teague, president of the organization, the state chamber of commerce today opposed the Central Valley water project proposal in its present form and conditioned "unauthorized" assertions that it had urged a "yes" vote on the proposal in the Dec. 13 referendum.

The statement said that the state chamber had approved the project under provisions that it be financed through government funds and place on an equal competitive basis both private and public utilities.

But, according to the chamber, the plan as submitted to the voters in the referendum did not meet the organization's approval.

POWERS ARE TURNED OVER TO GUILDS

Reviews Capitalism

Rome, Nov. 14.—(UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini, abolishing at one stroke the ancient Italian parliamentary system, today announced dissolution of the chamber of deputies, and the turning over of national legislative powers to a system of trade and commercial guilds.

The guilds, through their central council, and embracing industry, labor and commerce, will replace the chamber in the new "corporative state" evolved by Mussolini on the foundations of Fascism.

Mussolini's historic pronouncement which had been forecast when he issued his call for today's momentous meeting of the national guild council, confirmed the setting up of a new political system, and left few of its details undisclosed.

After reviewing the "history" of capitalism, which he said, embraced three phases, the "dynamic, the static and the decadent", and declaring that the rise of the cartel and trust from 1870 on marked the decline of the old system, Mussolini turned to modern life.

"The United States," he declared, "was the first nation to raise an insurmountable customs barrier, and she was followed by England. The World war followed, after which we passed from millions to billions as a unit of production; an example of this attraction can be found in the cases of Kreuger and Insull."

Today Europe is not dominating the world, either politically, spiritually or economically. A great American industrial organization has arisen. The Orient is awakening. Japan is marching with great strides."

FATE OF REBELS IS UP TO SAN MARTIN

HAVANA, Nov. 14.—(UP)—A decision of perhaps vital importance in the turbulent political situation—severity or leniency toward rebel leaders—faced President Ramon Grau San Martin and Col. Fulgencio Batista, army chief of staff today.

The verdict of a military court on the guilt or innocence of 34 men involved in the unsuccessful outbreak in the capital last week was in the hands of Batista, and decision on sentences lay with them.

As the court's verdict was not announced immediately it was believed that, in keeping with military form, the accused were found guilty.

Pittman proposes that the president take over the assets and pay off depositors in National banks which closed despite efforts of the Reconstruction Finance corporation to aid them and which cannot be reorganized quickly. The senator expects to see the president within a few days, and urge his plan with special reference to Nevada banks in which nearly 90 per cent of the state's deposits have been tied up for a year. All efforts to reorganize these banks appear to have failed. The R. F. C. now holds most of their liquid assets as security for a loan which was insufficient to keep the banks open.

ALFRED SMITH TO VISIT ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(UP)—Alfred E. Smith planned to visit President Roosevelt at the White House today when he came to Washington to attend a meeting of the board of trustees of Catholic university to which he was elected last spring. Scheduled to accompany the former New York governor was John J. Raskob, former Democratic national chairman.

Scratch of Pen in 1928 is Shown to Have Netted Six Million Prize

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(UP)—The scratch of a pen on October 24, 1928, created a $6,356,250 profit for Harry F. Sinclair and his associates in a Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation stock syndicate, senate stock market investigators revealed today.

There was signed that day in Sinclair's New York office a syndicate agreement to take over at $30 a share 1,130,000 shares of stock of the oil corporation. The agreement had been pending for several weeks but was not signed until a bull movement, in which the committee suspects market manipulation, skyrocketed the stock well over the $30 syndicated price.

The syndicate group, which included Arthur W. Cutten, Chicago wheat pit operator, the Chase Securities corporation and Blair and Company, began unloading on a rising market, selling short against their back log of 1,130,000 shares. Higher Profit

The booming market drove the profit figure higher and higher. Finally the participants took for themselves $12,002,109.41 for taking the stock from the oil company and passing it on to a speculative public. Cutten testified that the trading account which accompanied the operators of the unloading syndicate operated extensively between November 5 and December 21, 1928. In that period the trading account bought approximately 200,000 shares of Sinclair Consolidated and sold the same quantity. Cutten denied there had been "wash sales" anywhere in the transaction. Sinclair's negotiations for formation of the syndicate began early in October when the stock was quoted at $28 but signature of the agreement was delayed until a profit was assured.

METEOR SHOWER IS DUE AT MIDNIGHT

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—Hundreds of astronomers, amateur and professional, will watch tonight, Wednesday and Thursday for the long overdue rain of fire or Leonid shooting stars. It is just 100 years ago this Wednesday night, after midnight, that thousands of these meteors an hour blazed across the skies. That was their last big show. They are due three times a century, and this week Wednesday may be the lucky night, despite the fact that the astronomers calculated last year as the real time, providing the long lost meteors were back on their old trail. The shower will appear in the northern sky after midnight.

Supervisors In Approval Of Proposal

No Protest Filed Against Petition Bearing Names of 100 Freeholders

APPROVED this morning by the board of supervisors the proposition of forming a harbor improvement district and voting of $640,000 in bonds for improvement of the harbor will go to a vote in Orange county and be on the ballot for the special election called for December 19.

Hearing on a petition signed by approximately 100 freeholders of the county and registered voters was scheduled this morning and the approval of the board was given when there was no protest either verbal or written. The district, if approved by the voters, will be known as the Orange County Harbor District and will make possible the spending of approximately $1,500,000 in developing Newport Bay as a semi-commercial and yacht harbor.

James L. Beebe, of the firm of O'Melveny, Tuller and Myers, Los Angeles bond attorneys, who prepared the legal steps leading up to this morning's hearing explained the entire matter to the board of supervisors and said that should the district be formed under the Harbor District Act of 1927 it will have no power to issue bonds other than the $640,000 issue for which it was formed.

No More Bonds
The district will continue, he said for the purpose of levying taxes for repayment of the interest and principal of the bonds but can ask for the passage of no more bonds. The supervisors will have the power under the act to levy additional taxes for maintenance but this power already is vested in the board under the bond issue of 1920 and has never been used.

Beebe also stressed the fact that upon approval of the bond issue by the voters the bonds cannot be issued unless the government appropriation of approximately $1,500,000 is made. Under the present agreement the federal government will expend one half of the amount required for the development work as a river and harbor project. Orange county must provide the other half.

WOMAN, BELIEVED KIDNAPED, FOUND

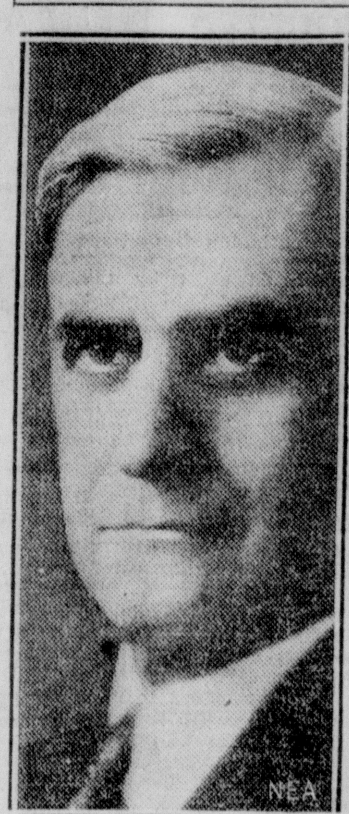

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 11.—(UP)—Mrs. Mary Gestford Lott, 77-year-old wealthy San Francisco woman who has been missing since March 10, was located today in the home of C. C. Koeter, automobile salesman, in Altadena, police announced. Koeter telephoned officers today that he believed the woman a man left in his care some time ago was Mrs. Lott. He said he had not known she was sought until he read of the case in the newspapers.

Frank J. Golden, attorney, attorney, was to be arranged today on a charge of kidnapping growing out of Mrs. Lott's disappearance. Golden was arrested yesterday in court.

ATTACK TAX PLAN IN APPEAL COURT

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 14.—(UP)—Problems of limitation provisions in California's new tax plan, ratified by the voters last June, were under consideration of the appellate court today, after Stanislaus county taxpayers brought a test case in an attempt to set aside the county's 1933-34 rate. The petitioning group contended the county supervisors exceeded the five per cent increase limitation fixed by the Riley-Stewart plan. The excess, $130,000 amounted to 20 per cent, they charged. Twenty counties, said to have exceeded the plan limitation, may be affected by the appellate court's ruling, expected in a few weeks.

OPERA SINGER GIVEN DIVORCE FROM PRINCE

Mary McCormic Granted Decree Without Contest; Settle Property

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—(UP)—Reciting a list of alleged acts of cruelty, Mary McCormic, opera singer, obtained a divorce today from Prince Serge Mdivani.

Miss McCormic won the divorce without contest. A property settlement was reached and Mdivani withdrew his counter-suit for divorce. Terms of the property settlement were not made known, though it was believed to have involved oil properties said to have been financed in the names of Prince Serge and David Mdivani by Miss McCormic and Mae Murray, film actress, who recently was divorced from the elder brother.

Miss McCormic was evasive when questioned about her reported engagement to Harry Bannister, actor. "Mr. Bannister is and would be a perfect fiance," she said, "but I have said nothing about marriage." She made no effort to conceal a gold bracelet on her wrist, on which was engraved "Harry Bannister," but she would not say whether it signified anything beyond a certain "fond friendship." On the stand, Miss McCormic moved an emphatic and unhesitating witness, except when it became necessary for her to repeat some of the profanity she said her titled husband directed toward her.

"He would get mad about little things and fly into terrific rages," she testified.

POWERS ARE TURNED OVER TO GUILDS

Ancient Parliamentary System Changed in Single Move By Premier Today

REVIEWS CAPITALISM
New Political System Embraces Trade and Commercial State Groups

ROME, Nov. 14.—(UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini, abolishing at one stroke the ancient Italian parliamentary system, today announced dissolution of the chamber of deputies, and the turning over of national legislative powers to a system of trade and commercial guilds.

The guilds, through their central council, and embracing industry, labor and commerce, will replace the chamber in the new "corporative state" evolved by Mussolini on the foundations of Fascism.

Mussolini's historic pronouncement which had been forecast when he issued his call for today's momentous meeting of the national guild council, confirmed the setting up of a new political system, and left few of its details undisclosed.

After reviewing the "history" of capitalism, which, he said, embraced three phases, the "dynamic, the static and the decadent," and declaring that the rise of the cardinal and trust from 1870 on marked the decline of the old system, Mussolini turned to modern life.

"The United States," he declared, "was the first nation to raise an insurmountable customs barrier, and she was followed by England. The World War followed, after which we passed from nations to billions as a unit of production; an example of this situation can be found in the cases of Kreuger and Insull."

"Today Europe is not dominating the world, either politically, spiritually or economically. A great American industrial organization has arisen. The Orient is awakening. Japan is marching with great strides."

FATE OF REBELS IS UP TO SAN MARTIN

HAVANA, Nov. 14.—(UP)—A decision of perhaps vital importance in the turbulent political situation—severely or leniently toward rebel leaders—faced President Ramon Grau San Martin and Col. Fulgencio Batista, army chief of staff today.

The verdict of a military court on the guilt or innocence of 31 men involved in the unsuccessful outbreak in the capital last week was in the hands of Batista, and decision on sentences lay with them. As the court's verdict was not announced immediately it was believed that, in keeping with military form, the accused were found guilty.

STATE WATER PLANS HIT BY STATE C. C.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—(UP)—In a statement signed by C. C. Teague, president of the organization, the state chamber of commerce today opposed the Central Valley water project proposal in its present form and contradicted "unauthorized assertions" that it had urged a "yes" vote on the proposal in the Dec. 19 referendum.

The statement said that the state chamber had approved the project under provisions that it be financed through government funds and place on an equal competitive basis both private and public utilities. But, according to the chamber, the plan as submitted to the voters in the referendum did not meet the provision and therefore did not meet the organization's approval.

the top of which there appeared the distraught father. He descended and distributed the typewritten slips bearing the appeal, then waited for questions.

When By Vigil But when the flood of questions came, the capitalist had but one answer: "I have nothing more to say. All that I can say is in that statement. Good evening, gentlemen." He appeared worn by his vigil.

Police, local, state and federal, working on the case had no comment regarding the message which was given the press in the hope it would reach persons knowing where Brooke is.

The authorities continued their fruitless chase of numerous minor reports which were offered as clues.

The name of "Pretty Boy" Floyd, Oklahoma outlaw, was brought back into the case when Police Chief J. J. Black, who has been quoted as skeptical regarding an actual kidnapping, sent officers to search the "catcombs" in the ghost town of Almaden, deserted silver mine site. An unidentified man reported to Black that Floyd had been seen in that vicinity in the last few days.

The Hart family announced that the San Jose man who went to Los Angeles hurriedly were not representing them in any negotiations for their son's return.

The elder Hart reiterated that he had not heard from Brooke or his captors since the ransom demand. A message which was received here reading "Give up, sell out for $20,000," was traced to James Neales, Auburn, Cal., a personal friend of the family who said the wife was "advising them to compromise."

DEMANDS $2773 AS BALM FOR INJURIES

Placing the responsibility on R. G. Lokx, truck driver, for an automobile crash, September 27, in which his wife was painfully injured William D. Calderwood has filed suit against Lokx and his employer Harry D. Zimmar for damages totalling $2773.50.

The accident happened at the intersection of Orange and Harvard avenues. Mrs. Calderwood received a badly sprained back, hip and neck in addition to injuries to her left arm and shoulder. Calderwood is asking judgment for $2500 for injuries to his wife and $273.50 damages to his automobile.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, Nov. 14. (To the Editor of The Register.) Germany had an election to see if they approved leaving the League of Nations. There was one fellow voted against it, but they are on track of him. Poor old League. Always felt on account of her having no policemen nobody wasn't going to pay much attention to it. We just seem to be living in an era when good ideas don't get over. Everybody is out to protect themselves in the clinic. They are not depending on the referee helping 'em out much. Look at little Switzerland, always one along minding their own business, now they got them going out buying a gun. The world has just lost faith in a bunch of guys with silk hats.

Yours, WILL ROGERS.

shares sold short by the syndicate before actual delivery had begun was borrowed from "various brokers."

"Then they were selling short," asked Pecora.

"They were—to make deliveries to persons who had purchased the stock."

Cutten said the trading account had been formed "to maintain the market," an expression used by his cousin, Arthur W. Cutten, in previous testimony. He denied the account was formed merely to aid the purchasing group to make a profit but agreed that the purchasing group intended to remarket its stock at a profit, and would hold it only if the market conditions made it necessary.

An exchange between Cutten and Senator Gore, Dem., Okla., brought from Senator Couzens, Rep., Mich., the comment that from previous testimony it was "perfectly apparent" there had been "wash sales" during the transactions.

"Senator," said Cutten, "there never was a 'wash sale' in these accounts and there never was a 'wash sale' in any transaction I had anything to do with."

THOUSANDS OF WOMEN TO GET FEDERAL HELP

one will have only one. Under present plans local organizations will provide the living quarters and the equipment while the federal relief administration will provide funds to buy clothing and food.

Divide Duties Cleaning, cooking and other household duties will be divided up among the women and girls living at the school. Their activities will be directed by a "housemother" who also is receiving relief.

Trained secretaries, unable to find employment, will conduct classes in office work. Instruction also will be provided in other branches of women's work.

"Every effort will be made to fit every woman living in the schools for some job," Mrs. Woodward said.

In addition to the permanent schools, homes where girls and women may obtain food and shelter temporarily are to be established.

The second phase of the program calls for the creation of jobs in every field of women's activities. The women receiving employment under this program will be paid at the rate prevailing in their community for that type of work.

To Create Jobs "We are going to create jobs from the top to the bottom," Mrs. Woodward said, "no group of women will be overlooked."

Already women are going to work as a result of the plan. Nursing schools where parents are taught child health, conservation and character development have been established in a number of states, giving employment to teachers, dietitians, nurses, recreation directors and domestic workers. Many more of these schools are to be established.

Sewing rooms where skilled workers repair and remodel clothing for use by the unemployed are in operation in 22 states. Additional rooms are being set up daily. In Los Angeles about 3,500 women were given employment in 57 rooms during October.

Thousands of librarians, stenographers, and office workers will be given employment in city, county and state offices doing work which previously had been curtailed because of reduced incomes.

Teachers will receive employment in rural schools now closed, in teaching illiterates to read and write, in giving vocational training and in instructing the physically handicapped.

The amount to be spent on this program has not yet been definitely determined but it was expected to total many millions.

GIRL ABSOLVED OF ACCIDENT BLAME

Miss Gertrude Rathke, 16-year-old Orange high school girl, was absolved of blame in the death of Mrs. Mary Padias, 49, Costa Mesa, by a coroner's jury yesterday at the inquest from the Gilgolly Funeral home in Orange.

The verdict stated that the death of Mrs. Padias was caused by an "unavoidable accident." Miss Rathke did not testify at the inquest. Mrs. Padias was struck by a car driven by the girl shortly before noon on Friday, while she was walking near the Orange plaza. She died several hours later at the Orange county hospital.

Funeral services were held at 2 this afternoon from the Gilgolly parlors with interment in Fairhaven cemetery. She is survived by her husband, Pastro Padias, and two sons, Floyd Padias, of Santa Ana, and Charles Padias, of Lancaster.

ROCKEFELLER'S REPORT ON LIQUOR CONTROL ATTACKED IN STATEMENT BY W. C. T. U.

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 14.—(UP)—The Women's Christian Temperance Union today described the Rockefeller Liquor control report as "an unscientific effort to gild the liquor traffic." Simultaneously the dry organization announced the start of a vigorous campaign for return of prohibition.

"The Rockefeller ideas of education, if given a chance in the schools, would produce a nation of drinkers with an inevitable army of drunkards who learned from their textbooks to drink liquor," the announcement said.

The temperance organization said that immediate mobilization would start in 25 regional conferences in strategic cities. The dates for the conferences have not yet been set.

Other objectives of the W. C. T. U., according to the announcement, comprise establishment of programs:

"Showing the social, economic and personal importance of total abstinence as opposed to moderation.

"To expose the phrase 'true temperance' as a brewers' term, a mere invitation to drink beer.

"Resist the advertising campaign for beer and wine; oppose efforts of the brewers to give away beer to children and other minors; to ask for complete prohibition of liquor advertising by newspapers, magazines, radio, motion pictures or billboards.

"Work to retain all state prohibition laws; work for prohibition from local units to the largest political divisions obtainable."

STRONG DELEGATION WILL ASK ROLPH INTERVENTION IN TIDELAND OIL SUITS

When Governor Rolph opens a hearing on the oil situation at Huntington Beach tomorrow at 10 a. m., he will be confronted with a great mass of facts and figures gathered by oil operators, royalty owners, merchants, city officials and union officials, it was revealed today.

Acting on the request of Gov. James Rolph Jr., that a strong representation be made from Orange county, a large delegation from Orange county will attend the conference in Sacramento tomorrow, according to Assemblyman James B. Utt.

Utt and Assemblyman Ted Craig and Ray Lambert left this morning for the capital. Mayor Paul Witmer of Santa Ana, T. B. Talbert, Huntington Beach councilman, County Welfare Director B. V. Curry and J. K. McDonald, chairman of the Emergency Relief Committee in Orange county, also will be among those at the hearing.

Rolph's Request According to Utt the governor is asking that a strong showing be made for the need of settlement of the state's fight with independent oil operators in the beach area over the alleged "whipstocking" of wells to drain the state owned tidelands oil pool. He asked that the showing be along the lines of necessity to create additional employment through re-opening of wells that have been closed since the state started litigation in the area.

At present there are three suits pending in the superior court of Orange county and because of these actions drilling in the beach area has practically ceased, it is reported.

Until a court decision has been handed down in Sacramento in the suit filed by Assemblyman Utt asking that the law be interpreted to permit State Treasurer Vandegrift to negotiate settlement with the independent operators, no binding action can be taken, Utt said. Should the court rule that such settlement can be effected it is assumed that the independent operators, accused of "slanting" their wells to tap the state oil pool, will pay a five per cent royalty to the state.

Alternatives Utt pointed out this morning that should the decision be against such settlement, the state is faced with several alternatives. The governor can call for a special session of the state legislature for BRITISH TO BUILD THREE NEW SHIPS LONDON, Nov. 14.—(UP)—The British naval program will be revised to include the building of three new cruisers, Sir Bolton Eyres-Monell, first lord of the admiralty, announced today in the house of commons.

"After the most anxious consideration, and with great regret," Eyres-Monell said, the government proposes to build two cruisers of a new type, or about 2,000 tons each, and one cruiser of the "Arctura" type, of 5,200 tons.

Naval observers interpreted the British move as a reply to America's increased naval building program, including its projected 10,000-ton cruiser, and to the new cruiser recently authorized by Japan.

Anniversary Of Church Paper To Be Celebrated Marking the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Christian Science Monitor by Mary Baker Eddy, the Monitor circulation committee of the Santa Ana First Church of Christ, Scientist, headed by Mrs. Thomas Prather is making a concentrated effort to obtain subscriptions to the paper for the week of November 20.

The week is known as Progress Week during which the Monitor will commemorate the progress made by that outstanding daily publication for the past 25 years and at the same time record the world's progress during the same span. A special supplement will be carried with the paper next week comprising a complete facsimile copy of the first issue of the Monitor of November 25, 1908.

equalization plans to extend to all types of liquor.

Rolph said he considered submitting to the voters a program repealing sections of the present amendment. This could be accomplished through circulation of initiative petitions, requiring 110,000 signatures, or proposal of a constitutional amendment by a special session of the legislature.

Rolph favors the initiative plan. He does not wish to call the legislature into session unless absolutely necessary, and he feels the liquor situation could be handled directly by the people.

"The liquor act isn't right as it is," he said. "It's too severe. It appears to be neither satisfactory nor enforceable, and it will encourage the speakeasy. I believe the people would vote for liberalized control."

Laws Too Severe "When the liquor act was drawn, its authors did not anticipate repeal so soon. They could not foresee such a universal trend of opinion against prohibition, and they made the regulatory laws too severe."

An election should be held as soon as possible, Rolph said. A new liquor act could not qualify for the Central Valley water plan election December 19, but a call may be issued to voters early in 1934.

Californiaans have voted in prohibition twice in the past year. They repealed the Wright Act and made provisions for liquor control last November, and ratified national repeal in a special election last June.

Cost of another election, $200,000 to $400,000, could be met by liquor taxes, Rolph suggested.

MORRIS LAVINE IS PARDONED BY ROLPH

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 14.—(UP)—Governor James Rolph today granted a pardon to Morris Levine, 37, Los Angeles newspaperman and attorney, who served a year in the county jail on a charge of attempted extortion.

Lavine was involved in extortion charges growing out of the Julian Pete case.

The pardon, which restores Lavine's full citizenship rights, and officially removes the blot from his name, was granted upon the recommendation of Judges Albert Lee Stephens, Gavin W. Craig, B. Ray Shauer, and William R. McKay; District Attorney Buron R. Fitts, Sheriff E. W. Biscailuz, and Charles D. Cress, foreman of the jury which found him guilty.

Gambling Ship Killer Brought To County Jail

James J. Walsh, 23, San Francisco seaman sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of a friend on a gambling ship, was returned to the Orange County jail yesterday to await removal to prison.

Walsh was brought to Santa Ana soon after his arrest and held in jail here until his trial. There are now 19 men in the jail awaiting a trip north to prison.

Accompanying Walsh to Santa Ana in custody of United States Deputy Marshal, were Nathan Kerkis, 45, Robert D. Amis, 25, Jesus Sanchez, 48, and Herbert Reimherr, 27, all charged with federal crimes.

FEDERAL BANK HEAD TO SPEAK SOON ON GOVERNMENT LOANS

Plans are being developed to bring Dr. E. A. Stokdyk, president of the Federal Bank for Co-operators of Berkeley to Orange county as speaker at a meeting of citrus packing house managers and directors, according to Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg. Arrangements for the meeting are being made by John Crill of Garden Grove.

Wahlberg said that the exact date and place for the meeting has not yet been announced. It is considered likely, however, that the session will be held November 23.

Stokdyk, formerly economist with the Glanville Foundation, will talk to the packing house men on "The Availability of Government Funds for Co-operators."

The organization that he heads at present is one branch of the Agricultural Credit Administration.

The meeting is being arranged, according to Wahlberg, at the request of manager and directors of the citrus packing houses in the county.

City Cars Take Part In Tag Game

"Tag, you're it."

A police car coasted up to the curb in front of the city hall yesterday afternoon and gently bumped the rear of the car of City Building Inspector Sam Preble. Joining in the playful game, Preble's car rolled forward and tagged the city car driven by Gene Heiss.

The sad part of the game, as far as Preble was concerned, was that a protruding pipe on the Heiss machine stabbed a headlight and bent it back.

ORANGE COUNTY WILL VOTE ON HARBOR BONDS

which will be done through the bond issue to appear on the December ballot and a government grant under gift and loan provisions of the public works administration program.

Government Sale Bonds for the $440,000 will be sold to the government and bear four per cent interest for 30 years. This it was pointed out will require an average tax rate of 2.5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation to repay.

Prior to approving the formation of the harbor district and voting on the bond issue, R. L. Patterson, city engineer at Newport Beach, was sworn and testified to facts relative to the project. He said that he had prepared the plans for the project and made the estimate of cost. He said that the estimate of approximately $1,800,000 would be sufficient to cover the actual cost of construction and incidental expense of the project.

The money will all be expended under government supervision, bids will be awarded by the government and army engineers will be in charge.

Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of engineers of the army already has recommended an appropriation of $917,500 as a federal project which amount is half of the entire cost of the plan.

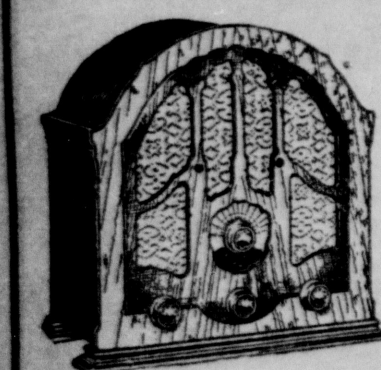

10 SENTENCED IN S. A. POLICE COURT

Interest in militarism versus pacifism flamed anew on the Santa Ana junior college campus today with the announcement of an open debate sponsored by Phi Rho Pi, local debate society, Thursday noon in college hall.

Dissension has been kept up by both factions by posting newspaper clippings and editorials, and open letters with comments by the students.

The debate society, in its announcement, promised a neutral supervision, with equal opportunity for partisans of both sides to speak their minds on the matter.

When by Vigil

But when the flood of questions began, the capitalist had but one answer: "I have nothing more to say. All that I can say is in that statement. Good evening, gentlemen." He appeared worn by his vigil.

Police, local, state and federal, working on the case had no comment regarding the message which was given the press in the hope it would reach persons knowing where Brooke is.

The authorities continued their fruitless chase of numerous minor reports which were offered as clues.

The name of "Pretty Boy" Floyd, Oklahoma outlaw, was brought back into the case when Police Chief J. N. Black, who has been quoted as skeptical regarding an actual kidnapping, sent officers to search the "catacombs" in the shanty town of Alhambra, deserted silver mine site. An unidentified man reported to Black that Floyd had been seen in that vicinity in the last few days.

The Hart family announced that two San Jose men who went to Los Angeles hurriedly were not representing them in any negotiations for their son's return.

The elder Hart reiterated that he had not heard from Brooke or his captors since the ransom demand. A message which was received here reading "Give up, sell out for $20,000," was traced to James Neales, Auburn, Cal., a personal friend of the family who said the wife was "advising them to compromise."

DEMANDS $2773 AS BALM FOR INJURIES

Placing the responsibility on R. G. Lox, truck driver, for an automobile crash, September 27, last in which his wife was painfully injured William D. Calderwood has filed suit against Lox and his employer Harry D. Zimmer for damages totalling $2773.50.

The accident happened at the intersection of Orangefield and Harvard avenues. Mrs. Calderwood received a badly sprained back, hip and neck in addition to injuries to her left arm and shoulder. Calderwood is asking judgment for $2500 for injuries to his wife and $273.50 damages to his automobile.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, Nov. 14.

(To the Editor of The Register.) Germany had an election to see if they approved leaving the League of Nations. There was one fellow voted against it, but they are on track of him. Poor old League. Always felt on account of her having no policemen nobody wasn't going to pay much attention to it. We just seem to be living in an era when good ideas don't get over. Everybody is out to protect themselves in the clinic. They are not depending on the referee helping 'em out much. Look at little Switzerland, always one along minding their own business, now they got them going out buying a gun. The world has just lost faith in a bunch of guys with silk hats.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

shares sold short by the syndicate before actual delivery had begun was borrowed from "various brokers."

"Then they were selling short?" asked Pecora.

"They were—to make deliveries to persons who had purchased the stock."

Cutten said the trading account had been formed "to maintain the market," an expression used by his cousin, Arthur W. Cutten, in previous testimony. He denied the account was formed merely to aid the purchasing group to make a profit but agreed that the purchasing group intended to remarket its stock at a profit, and would hold it only if the market conditions made it necessary.

An exchange between Cutten and Senator Gore, Dem., Okla., brought from Senator Coughlin, Rep., Mich., the comment that from previous testimony it was "perfectly apparent" there had been "wash sales" during the transactions.

"Senator," said Cutten, "there never was a 'wash sale' in these accounts and there never was a 'wash sale' in any transaction I had anything to do with."

one will have only one. Under present plans local organizations will provide the living quarters and the equipment while the federal relief administration will provide funds to buy clothing and food.

Divide Duties

Cleaning, cooking and other household duties will be divided up among the women and girls living at the school. Their activities will be directed by a "housemother" who also is receiving relief.

Trained secretaries, unable to find employment, will conduct classes in office work. Instruction also will be provided in other branches of women's work.

"Every effort will be made to fit every woman living in the schools for some job," Mrs. Woodward said.

In addition to the permanent schools, homes where girls and women may obtain food and shelter temporarily are to be established.

The second phase of the program calls for the creation of jobs in every field of women's activities. The women receiving employment under this program will be paid at the rate prevailing in their community for that type of work.

To Create Jobs

"We are going to create jobs from the top to the bottom," Mrs. Woodward said, "no group of women will be overlooked."

Already women are going to work as a result of the plan. Nursing schools where parents are taught child health, conservation and character development have been established in a number of states, giving employment to teachers, dietitians, nurses, recreation directors and domestic workers. Many more of these schools are to be established.

Sewing rooms where skilled workers repair and remodel clothing for use by the unemployed are in operation in 22 states. Additional rooms are being set up daily. In Los Angeles about 3,500 women were given employment in 57 rooms during October.

The amount of money to be spent on this program has not yet been definitely determined but it was expected to total many millions.

GIRL ABSOLVED OF ACCIDENT BLAME

Miss Gertrude Rathke, 16-year-old Orange high school girl, was absolved of blame in the death of Mrs. Mary Padias, 49, Costa Mesa, by a coroner's jury yesterday at the inquest from the Gilgilly Funeral home in Orange.

The verdict stated that the death of Mrs. Padias was caused by an "unavoidable accident." Miss Rathke did not testify at the inquest. Mrs. Padias was struck by a car driven by the girl shortly before noon on Friday, while she was walking near the Orange plaza. She died several hours later at the Orange county hospital.

Funeral services were held at 2 this afternoon from the Gilgilly parlors with interment in Fairhaven cemetery. She is survived by her husband, Pastro Padias, and two sons, Floyd Padias, of Santa Ana, and Charles Padias, of Lancaster.

ROCKEFELLER'S REPORT ON LIQUOR CONTROL ATTACKED IN STATEMENT BY W. C. T. U.

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 14.—(UP)—The Women's Christian Temperance Union today described the Rockefeller Liquor control report as "an unscientific effort to gild the liquor traffic." Simultaneously the dry organization announced the start of a vigorous campaign for return of prohibition.

"The Rockefeller plan of education, if given a chance in the schools, would produce a nation of drinkers with an inevitable army of drunkards who learned from their textbooks to drink liquor," the announcement said.

The temperance organization said that immediate mobilization would start in 25 regional conferences in strategic cities. The dates for the conferences have not yet been set.

Other objectives of the W. C. T. U., according to the announcement, included establishment of programs:

"Showing the social, economic and personal importance of total abstinence as opposed to moderation."

"To expose the phrase 'true temperance' as a brewers' term, a mere invitation to drink beer."

"Resist the advertising campaign for beer and wine; oppose efforts of the brewers to give away beer to children and other minors; to ask for complete prohibition of liquor advertising by newspapers, magazines, radio, motion pictures and billboards."

"Work to retain all state prohibition laws; work for prohibition from local units to the largest political divisions obtainable."

STRONG DELEGATION WILL ASK ROLPH INTERVENTION IN TIDELAND OIL SUITS

When Governor Rolph opens a hearing on the oil situation at Huntington Beach tomorrow at 10 a. m., he will be confronted with a great mass of facts and figures gathered by oil operators, royalty owners, merchants, city officials and union officials, it was revealed today.

Acting on the request of Gov. changing the existing law and permit settlement with the independent oil operators, a large delegation from Orange county will attend the conference in Sacramento tomorrow, according to Assemblyman James B. Utt.

Utt and Assemblyman Ted Craig and Ray Lambert left this morning for the capital. Mayor Paul Wittmer of Santa Ana, T. B. Talbert, Huntington Beach councilman, County Welfare Director B. V. Curry and J. K. McDonald, chairman of the Emergency Relief Committee in Orange county, also will be among those at the hearing.

Rolph's Request

According to Utt the governor is asking that a strong showing be made for the need of settlement of the state's fight with independent oil operators in the beach area. The alleged "whipstocking" of wells to drain the state owned tidelands oil pool. He asked that the showing be along the lines of necessity to create additional employment through re-opening of wells that have been closed since the state started litigation in the area.

At present there are three suits pending in the superior court of Orange county and because of these actions drilling in the beach area has practically ceased, it is reported.

Until a court decision has been handed down in Sacramento in the suit filed by Assemblyman Utt asking that the law be interpreted to permit State Treasurer Vandegrift to negotiate settlement with the independent operators, no binding action can be taken, Utt said. Should the court rule that such settlement can be effected it is assumed that the independent operators, accused of "slanting" their wells to tap the state oil pool, will pay a five per cent royalty to the state.

Alternatives

Utt pointed out this morning that should the decision be against such settlement, the state is faced with several alternatives. The governor can call for a special session of the state legislature for today.

Following the return to Santa Ana of Lester J. Fountain, manager of the Fox West Coast and the Broadway theaters here, Carl Miller, of San Bernardino, who has been acting as city manager, has been made assistant to Milt Arthur, of the Calbadan Theaters, incorporated, it was announced today.

Miller is expected to leave here today where he will assume charge of the Capitol theater in Long Beach, one of the Calbadan chain, which has been closed for many months, but with the increase seen in business circles everywhere, is to be resumed.

Fountain, manager here for the past several years, has just completed a seven weeks' tour, which took him to the Century of Progress exhibition, New York, Washington, and then to several South American ports, returning by the Panama canal.

Interest in militarism versus pacifism flared anew on the Santa Ana Junior college campus today with the announcement of an open debate sponsored by Phi Rho Pi, local debate society. Thursday noon in college hall.

Discussion has been kept up by both factions by posting newspaper clippings and editorials, and open letters with comments by the students.

The debate society, in its announcement, promises a neutral supervision, with equal opportunity for partisans of both sides to speak their minds on the matter.

GOVERNOR MAY CALL SPECIAL ELECTION SOON

equalization plans to extend to all types of liquor.

Rolph said he considered submitting to the voters a program repealing sections of the present amendment. This could be accomplished through circulation of initiative petitions, requiring 110,000 signatures, or proposal of a constitutional amendment by a special session of the legislature.

Rolph favors the initiative plan. He does not wish to call the legislature into session unless absolutely necessary, and he feels the liquor situation could be handled directly by the people.

"The liquor act isn't right as it is," he said. "It's too severe. It appears to be neither satisfactory nor enforceable, and it will encourage the speakeasy. I believe the people would vote for liberalized control."

Laws Too Severe

"When the liquor act was drawn, its authors did not anticipate repeal so soon. They could not foresee such a universal trend of opinion against prohibition, and they made the regulatory laws too severe."

An election should be held as soon as possible, Rolph said. A new liquor act could not qualify for the Central Valley water plan election December 19, but a call may be issued to voters early in 1934.

California have voted on prohibition twice in the past year. They repealed the Wright Act and made provisions for liquor control last November, and ratified national repeal in a special election last June.

Cost of another election, $300,000 to $400,000, could be met by liquor taxes, Rolph suggested.

MORRIS LAVINE IS PARDONED BY ROLPH

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 14.—(UP)—Governor James Rolph today granted a pardon to Morris Levine, 37, Los Angeles newspaperman and attorney, who served a year in the county jail on a charge of attempted extortion.

Lavine was involved in extortion charges growing out of the Julian Pete case.

The pardon, which restores Lavine's full citizenship rights, and officially removes the blot from his name, was granted upon the recommendation of Judges Albert Lee Stephens, Gavin W. Craig, B. Ray Shauer, and William R. McKay; District Attorney Buron R. Pitts; Sheriff E. W. Biscailuz, and Charles D. Cross, foreman of the jury which found him guilty.

Gambling Ship Killer Brought To County Jail

James J. Walsh, 23, San Francisco seaman sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of a friend on a gambling ship, was returned to the Orange County jail yesterday to await removal to prison.

Walsh was brought to Santa Ana soon after his arrest and held in jail here until his trial. There are now 10 men in the jail awaiting a trip north to prison.

Accompanying Walsh to Santa Ana in custody of United States Deputy Marshal, were Nathan Kerkis, 45, Robert D. Amis, 25, Jesus Sanchez, 48, and Herbert Reimher, 27, all charged with federal crimes.

Plans are being developed to bring Dr. E. A. Stokdyk, president of the Federal Bank for Co-operators of Berkeley to Orange county as speaker at a meeting of citrus packing house managers and directors, according to Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg. Arrangements for the meeting are being made by John Crill of Garden Grove.

Wahlberg said that the exact date and place for the meeting has not yet been announced. It is considered likely, however, that the session will be held November 23.

Stokdyk, formerly economist with the Giannini Foundation, will talk to the packing house men on "The Availability of Government Funds for Co-operators."

The organization that he heads at present is one branch of the Agricultural credit Administration.

The meeting is being arranged, according to Wahlberg, at the request of manager and directors of the citrus packing houses in the county.

City Cars Take Part In Tag Game

"Tag, you're it."

A police car coasted up to the curb in front of the city hall yesterday afternoon and gently bumped the rear of the car of City Building Inspector Sam Preble. Joining in the playful game, Preble's car rolled forward and tagged the city car driven by Gene Heiss.

The sad part of the game, as far as Preble was concerned, was that a protruding pipe on the Heiss machine stabbed a headlight and bent it back.

ORANGE COUNTY WILL VOTE ON HARBOR BONDS

which will be done through the bond issue to appear on the December ballot and a government grant under gift and loan provisions of the public works administration program.

Government Sale

Bonds for the $640,000 will be sold to the government and bear four per cent interest for 30 years. This it was pointed out will require an average tax rate of 2.6 cents per $100 of assessed valuation to repay.

Prior to approving the formation of the harbor district and voting on the bond issue, R. L. Patterson, city engineer at Newport Beach, was sworn and testified to facts relative to the project. He said that he had prepared the plans for the project and made the estimates of cost. He said that the estimate of approximately $1,800,000 would be sufficient to cover the actual cost of construction and incidental expense of the project.

The money will all be expended under government supervision, bids will be awarded by the government and army engineers will be in charge.

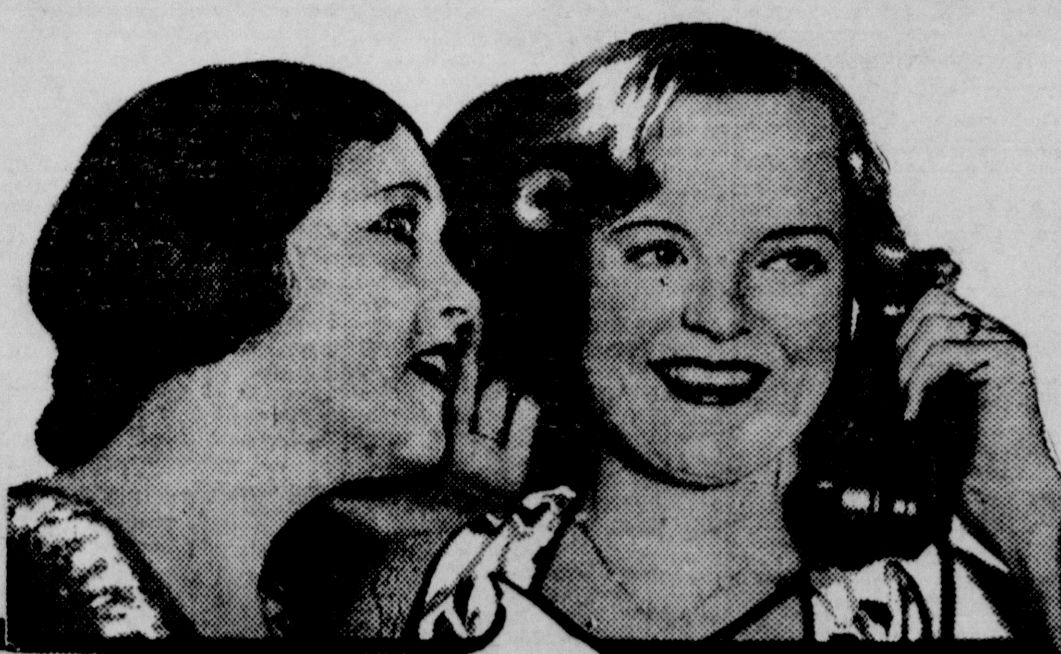

Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of engineers of the army already has recommended an appropriation of $917,500 as a federal project which amount is half of the entire cost of the plan.

Judge J. G. Mitchell sent Clarence Brady to jail for 30 days and Joe Roberts, Raymond Carabella, F. Flores, Manuel Ortiz, Emil Reyes, Jesus Dominguez and Almer Owens for 7-12 days. Lilly Mingares was given a 10 day suspended sentence with the provision that he refrain from drinking for six months.

LIMITATION OF LOAN AMOUNTS IS OPPOSED

Objection to setting an arbitrary limit of any kind upon loans by the Federal land bank, due to the many varied conditions of groves, was voiced today by several local growers, who pointed to the fact that while land bank officials have declared each loan application would be considered on its individual merits, yet no loan has yet been approved in excess of $500 per acre.

Conservative bank loans have made, on highly productive groves, of $500, $1000, and $1200, it was pointed out, and such loans have been justified by the returns of the groves. One of the recent complaints regarding Federal loans is the excessively low appraisals made upon Orange county groves which tend to depreciate values and hinder recovery, rather than aid the national recovery program.

As indicating the high productive values of Orange county orchards, one 10 acre tract situated a mile north of Tustin was referred to. This grove, in a run down condition, was purchased by a well known Santa Ana businessman early in 1920 for $16,000. Despite the fact that the first three or four years were unproductive, due to the previous lack of care, yet in the intervening period of 12 years, during both good and bad years, this grove has produced enough profit to pay the $16,000 original purchase price, $23,000 put into maintenance and improvements, and a net profit of $1500, which is expected to increase to $2500 by the end of 1933.

The businessman-owner has never lived on the property, and has hired all work done on the place, so that he has charged every day's labor and all materials, as well as interest paid, against the maintenance and improvement of the place.

When informed that this grove would be ineligible for a Federal Land Bank loan because it does not have a house upon it, the owner replied that to build on the place would mean destroying possibly a quarter acre of orange trees, and the loss of this production would cost him more than the home value of the place. So he has continued to live in town, so his family could enjoy city conveniences, and has kept his grove for its revenue-producing value.

CHARGES OF INVESTIGATION MEET DENIAL

Outright denials of any knowledge that "the American Legion is investigating, with plan to act, the attitude of D. K. Hammond, (principal of Santa Ana High school), and other instructors in the Santa Ana school system," as stated in an editorial entitled "Boudoir Pinkie" by J. B. Phillips in the Brea Progress, were made today by commanders of the Orange County Council, American Legion, and Santa Ana Post No. 131.

Claude Potter, county council commander, said: "I don't know a thing about any investigation being made in the Santa Ana school system. If an official investigation were being made I certainly would know about it."

Charles Swanner, Santa Ana post commander, declared he has heard nothing of such an investigation. "As far as the Santa Ana post is concerned," he said, "we are standing on the general attitude of the Legion opposing Communism but we make no personal attacks. Statements of individual men should not be taken as the official attitude of the Legion."

Efforts were made to reach Homer Chailaux, state department commander but it was learned that he has left for the East.

In his editorial on November 10, Phillips said, at the conclusion of the article: "In the meantime the American Legion is investigating—with plan to act—the attitude of D. K. Hammond and other instructors of his ilk, in the Santa Ana educational system."

When questioned concerning the investigation, Phillips said that he personally had suggested to the state department through Commander Chailaux, that an investigation of the situation in Orange county be made. "I don't know definitely if they are investigating," he said, "but I think they will investigate all over the state. There is no one in Orange county who should do it. There has been smoke in Orange county and where there is smoke there must be fire."

The editorial in question discussed a talk made by Chailaux at the Santa Ana high school. He said the students were courteous but slightly cool and that reports got out that student body chiefs had instructed the audience not to applaud under any circumstances. He called attention to a letter by a student in The Register the following day, protesting the sabre rattling of the address.

LIMITATION OF LOAN AMOUNTS IS OPPOSED

Objection to setting an arbitrary limit of any kind upon loans by the Federal land bank, due to the many varied conditions of groves, was voiced today by several local growers, who pointed to the fact that while land bank officials have declared each loan application would be considered on its individual merits, yet no loan has yet been approved in excess of $500 per acre.

Conservative bank loans have been made on highly productive groves, of $500, $1000, and $1200. It was pointed out, and such loans have been justified by the returns of the groves. One of the recent complaints regarding Federal loans is the excessively low appraisals made upon Orange county groves which tend to depreciate values and hinder recovery, rather than aid the national recovery program.

As indicating the high productive values of Orange county orchards, one 10 acre tract situated a mile north of Tustin was referred to. This grove, in a run down condition, was purchased by a well known Santa Ana businessman early in 1926 for $16,000. Despite the fact that the first three or four years were unproductive, due to the previous lack of care, yet in the intervening period of 12 years, during both good and bad years, this grove has produced enough net profit to pay the $16,000 original purchase price, $23,000 put into maintenance and improvements, and a net profit of $1500, which is expected to increase to $2500 by the end of 1933.

The businessman-owner has never lived on the property, and has hired all work done on the place, so that he has charged every day's labor and all materials, as well as interest paid, against the maintenance and improvement of the place.

When informed that this grove would be ineligible for a Federal Land Bank loan because it does not have a house upon it, the owner replied that to build on the place would mean destroying possibly a quarter acre of orange trees, and the loss of this production would cost him more than the home value of the place. So he has continued to live in town, so his family could enjoy city conveniences, and has kept his grove for its revenue-producing value.

LA FOLLETTE TO ADDRESS STUDENTS

Robert La Follette Jr., Progressive-Republican senator from Wisconsin, will speak to students of the Santa Ana Junior college at their regular assembly Tuesday, November 21, according to word received today by D. K. Hammond, president.

The meeting, Hammond said, is exclusively for junior college students as the speaker is under contract and would be unable to speak to a general meeting without charge.

NRA Idea Topic Of Lecture Tonight

"The Idea of the NRA" will be the subject discussed by Prof. Graham A. Laing of Cal-Tech, at a lecture at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the auditorium of the Willard Junior High school. It was announced today by Mrs. Golden Weston, director of the adult education department.

The lecture is one of a series being presented here by Professor Laing, who is considered one of the best informed men on economics in this section. There is no charge made for the lecture. Ruth Bartlett will begin a series of studies concerning "Behaviorism Resulting from a Loss of Hearing" Wednesday from 3:15 to 4:15 p. m. in the Willard library.

CHARGES OF INVESTIGATION MEET DENIAL

Outright denials of any knowledge that "the American Legion is investigating, with plan to act, the attitude of D. K. Hammond, (principal of Santa Ana High school), and other instructors in the Santa Ana school system," as stated in an editorial entitled "Boudoir Plinks" by J. B. Phillips in the Brea Progress, were made today by commanders of the Orange County Council, American Legion, and Santa Ana Post No. 131.

Claude Potter, county council commander, said: "I don't know a thing about any investigation being made in the Santa Ana school system. If an official investigation were being made I certainly would know about it."

Charles Swanner, Santa Ana post commander, declared he has heard nothing of such an investigation. "As far as the Santa Ana post is concerned," he said, "we are standing on the general attitude of the Legion opposing Communism but we make no personal attacks. Statements of individual men should not be taken as the official attitude of the Legion."

Efforts were made to reach Homer Chailaux, state department commander but it was learned that he has left for the East.

In his editorial on November 10, Phillips said, at the conclusion of the article: "In the meantime the American Legion is investigating—with plan to act—the attitude of D. K. Hammond and other instructors of his ilk, in the Santa Ana educational system."

When questioned concerning the investigation Phillips said that he personally had suggested to the state department through Commander Chailaux, that an investigation of the situation in Orange county be made. "I don't know definitely if they are investigating," he said, "but I think they will investigate all over the state. There is no one in Orange county who should do it. There has been smoke in Orange county and where there is smoke there must be fire."

The editorial in question discussed a talk made by Chailaux at the Santa Ana high school. He said the students were courteous but slightly cool and that reports got out that student body chiefs had instructed the audience not to applaud, under any circumstances. He called attention to a letter by a student in The Register the following day, protesting the sabre rattling of the address.

STATE D. A. R. HOLD FUNERAL REGENT GUEST OF W. K. ALLEN MOJAVE GROUP ON WEDNESDAY

FULLERTON, Nov. 14.—Mrs. Frederick F. Gundrum, state regent of Daughters of the American Revolution, was honor guest and speaker yesterday at the November Mojave chapter, at an all day meeting with Mrs. Arch Edwards, Santa Raymond avenue.

She told of the work of the D. A. R. and gave her impression of the strike in San Joaquin valley, which she said was incited by Communists, aided by students from the universities.

Mrs. Gundrum called attention to the fact that although the work of the D. A. R. includes charity, the first work is Americanization, and she presented many helps in published lines that are prepared for use of the members, and especially of the program chairman.

Miss Nancy Lee Carmichael, regent, presided. Mrs. Dora Gunnell led in the devotion and Mrs. W. W. Blackmer led in flag salute. Following introduction of Mrs. Gundrum by Mrs. Lightner, former member of Maricopa chapter, Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. Agnes Purnell, secretary to Miss Josephine Seaman, president of the California Federation of Women's clubs, were introduced.

Mrs. Helen Lang and Mrs. Walker were introduced as new members. Committee reports were heard, including one by Mrs. Thompson, on Real Daughters of the American Revolution; by Mrs. Irene Jarvis on memorial services held for the state regent, Mrs. Frank Toms, at South Pasadena; by Mrs. A. Efforts are to be made to get a plot of ground used for memorial plantings of trees to departed members of D. A. R. in Hillcrest park, enlarged.

Mrs. R. R. Lightner, junior past regent, presided. Mrs. Edwards, hostesses, provided special music. Assisting hostesses at the session, were Mrs. Harvey Lytel, Mrs. Geneva Reed and Mrs. Jarvis.

FULLERTON, Nov. 14.—More than 150 Kiwanians and their wives last night enjoyed the 12th annual dinner at McFarland's cafe. Past presidents were hosts at the tables, where all seated were dressed to fit the nation representative. Glenn Lewis is the new president.

At the French table, where Louis Plummer presided, the men wore little beards and a French skit was presented. Ted Cocoran presided at the Scotch table, and there Dwight Goodwin sang a Scotch song and Mrs. Dan O'Hanlon did a Highland fling.

Otto Evans, Harry Williams, Glenn Lewis, William Wickert and Harry Maxwell were hosts at the American table, which was decorated in red, white and blue, and there an interesting skit, "The Big Bad Wolf and the Three Piggies" was presented.

The Chinese table was decorated in lanterns and with many rare and beautiful Chinese relics, presented for the occasion by Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Terrill. Jack Horner presided. Many of the guests wore lovely Chinese gowns.

Albert Launer presided at the Spanish table and from the group was presented several Spanish dance numbers.

With Jess D. Hardy presiding, and with a group of dances as entertainment, along with the typical Hawaiian decorations, the Hawaiian table was most attractive.

"Black Shirts" reigned at the Italian table, under supervision of L. O. Culp, and created unusual fun, with an everlasting presumption on all affairs of the evening, when with raised arms they cried "Viva Mussolini!" Al Foster added to the entertainment there by singing a group of solos.

During the evening the King of Scotland, in the person of Dan O'Hanlon, presented Harry Parry with a set of "golf sticks" for his having made a hole in one.

The Kiwanian orchestra provided music for a dance at the close of the session.

ANAHEIM YOUTH TWENTY-THREE ENJOYING TRIP CLUB OFFICERS AROUND WORLD ARE NOMINATED

ANAHEIM, Nov. 14.—Life aboard the Norwegian oil tanker, "Nina-borther" proved exciting and interesting to Paul Bruce, son of Fireman Vincent Bruce, who arrived in Anaheim yesterday morning from Australia for a one day stay before leaving for Manila, China and perhaps to the home.

A graduate of the Anaheim Union High school and Santa Ana Junior college young Bruce left here 10 weeks ago as a member of the crew and in that time has visited in Melbourne for 19 days and Sydney for three days. He brought as his guest for the brief visit, Clarence Stilesen, nephew of the ship's captain.

Bruce described Australia as a typical sportsman's country saying that all shops close on Saturday noon and do not reopen until Monday morning. In the intervening time everyone devotes his time to outdoor sports, the favorites being football, golf, croquet and cricket. Huge throngs turn out for the football games which differ slightly from American football, but which is played with the American pigskin.

The harbors at Sydney and Melbourne are considered the most beautiful in the world, he said, as great parks and landscaped drives run down to the water's edge. Melbourne is built in a leisurely manner while Sydney is more compact, one third of the population of Australia being concentrated in these two cities.

One of the things most interesting to him was the giant war memorial in Melbourne. The towering shaft was so built that on Armistice day at 11 o'clock the sun's rays pierce through a hole and light an inscription, "Greater love hath no man." It took 240 pages of mathematical calculations to solve the lighting problem, he said.

In telling of the ocean voyage Bruce said that it took 28 days to reach Australia. One of the most humorous incidents of his trip was found in the fact that hash is served the crew each night for dinner and the one night that he was invited as a guest to the captain's table was the night that hash was served there, also.

ANAHEIM, Nov. 14.—In the absence of Judge Frank Tausch who was confined to his home with illness Judge Henry Kuchel of the Anaheim justice court presided over police cases yesterday.

L. Strayer of Los Angeles was arraigned on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor. He was arrested Sunday but released yesterday on a $50 bail to appear for his hearing tomorrow morning at 9 a. m.

A musical program was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kuenzli, the former singing three songs accompanied at the piano by his wife, "Desert Song," "Sylvia" and "Song of Songs." Mrs. Kuenzli then gave a piano reading, "Beautiful Belinda."

Plans were discussed from the county wide meeting that will be held in Santa Ana on December 12 and for the county wide benefit dance for Christmas at charity boxes. Wallie Walton, president, presided over the meeting.

EBELL SECTION IN MEETING ON MONDAY

ANAHEIM, Nov. 14.—The proper framing of etchings and artistic arrangement of flowers were discussed yesterday afternoon when the Home and Garden section of the Ebelle club met at the home of Miss Helen Jefferay, 725 North Lemay street.

Mrs. William Webb, Jr., discussed the framing of blocks and prints, advocating the use of black tape in place of frames. Mrs. M. A. Gauer read from a garden magazine on the proper arrangement of flowers.

Another interesting feature of the afternoon was found in travel highlights given by Mrs. J. S. Van Wagener, section leader last year, who returned last week from a long trip east where she attended the World's Fair.

Mrs. H. A. Hawley, who was an assistant hostess with Mrs. Clarence Powell for the afternoon, demonstrated the making of cake doughnuts which were later served at the refreshment hour.

FULLERTON, Nov. 14.—Mrs. Frederick F. Gundrum, state regent of the D. A. R. of the Mojave group, was honor guest and speaker yesterday at the November meeting with Mrs. Arch Edwards, South Raymond avenue.

She told of the work of the D. A. R. and gave her impression of the strike in San Joaquin valley, which she said was incited by Communists, aided by students from the universities.

Mrs. Gundrum called attention to the fact that although the work of the D. A. R. includes charity, the first work is Americanization, and she presented many helps in published lines that are prepared for use of the members, and especially of the program chairman.

Miss Nancy Lee Carmichael, regent, presided. Mrs. Dora Gunnelt led in the devotion and Mrs. W. W. Blackmer led in flag salute.

Following introduction of Mrs. Gundrum by Mrs. Lichner, Mrs. Helen of Whittier, former member of Maricopa chapter, Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. Agnes Purnell, secretary to Miss Josephine Seaman, president of the California Federation of Women's clubs, were introduced.

Mrs. Helen Lang and Mrs. Walker were introduced by Mrs. Lichner. Committee reports were heard, including one by Mrs. Thompson, on Real Daughters of the American Revolution; by Mrs. Irene Jarvis on memorial services held for the state regent, Mrs. Frank Toms, at South Pasadena; by Mrs. A. W. Chaffee on the meeting of the D. A. R. in Chicago, at the World's fair.

Efforts are to be made to get a plot of ground used for memorial plantings of trees to departed members of D. A. R. in Hillcrest park, enlarged.

Mrs. R. R. Lichner, junior past regent, presided. Mrs. Edwards, hostesses, provided special music. Assisting hostesses at the session, were Mrs. Harvey Lytle, Mrs. George Reed and Mrs. Jarvis.

START MOVE TO GET REVERSAL ON DECISION ON HINRICH'S NEW HEAD OF 4-H CLUB LEADERS

Attempts to secure a rehearing on the recent state supreme court decision making cities of the state liable for the delinquencies on street assessment bonds taken out under the Act of 1915, will be carried on by the city attorneys of Burbank and Lakeport, acting as special counsel, it was learned at the city council meeting last night from City Attorney Clyde Downing.

Downing has been attending meetings of Southern California officials interested in securing a reversal of the decision which it is said will virtually bankrupt many cities. It is hoped that the matter eventually will go before the United States Supreme Court.

City Auditor Lloyd Banks has estimated that if the decision is allowed to stand, Santa Ana would be liable for about $135,000 at the present time, which will be greater if delinquencies increase in coming months.

H. J. Hinrichs of West Orange, was chosen president of the inter-county council of 4-H leaders, and Mrs. Floyd Benson, of Anaheim, secretary, at their meeting held recently at Chino. Jack Rude of San Bernardino county was elected vice president to serve for the coming year with these officers.

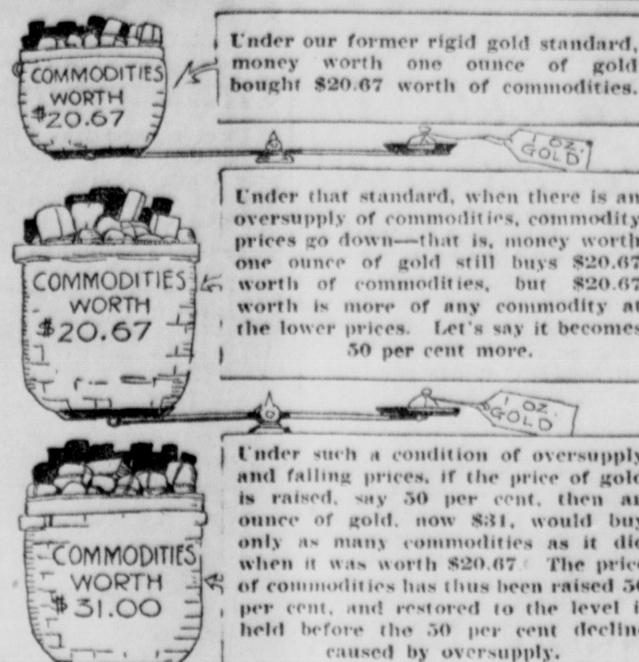

The meeting opened with a 6:30 p. m. dinner at the social hall of the Chino M. E. church. More than 60 4-H leaders and extension agents from Orange, Los Angeles, Riverside and San Bernardino counties were present.

President Paul Pierce of Riverside called the meeting to order and W. R. (Bob) Ralston, executive from the Berkeley office, announced the Great Western Livestock show in Los Angeles on December 2. 4-H members will be admitted to the show free and will be furnished lunches at noon. A small charge will be made for the rodeo in the afternoon.

Ralston then discussed the requirements for membership to the senior 4-H clubs. Senior members must be more than 15 years of age and must have completed 4 years of 4-H club work, he said. The objective of the senior group is to learn industry, thrift, skill and knowledge. When the new deal is over, he said, it is certain that the farmer in the future will need this training to win out just the same as before.

GOLD POLICY PURPOSE

UNDER the rigid gold standard, the price of gold and the value of money in gold was fixed, one ounce of gold being worth $20.67. Under President Roosevelt's new gold policy, the government is given the power to vary, at will, the number of dollars it will give for each ounce of gold. Through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, newly mined gold is bought at the government's price. The R. F. C. also can buy and sell gold abroad, thus influencing the foreign market value of American money.

THE purpose of President Roosevelt's new gold policy is to raise prices of commodities. It is intended to work in this way: By raising the number of dollars paid for an ounce of pure gold, the government is making each of those dollars of less value in terms of the gold it will buy. Saying the same thing, differently, it would take MORE of these less-valuable dollars to buy a given quantity of any commodity, than before the price of gold was arbitrarily raised. And so, by raising the price of gold, the government hopes to raise the price of all other commodities. When you regulate prices in terms of dollars, or dollars in terms of prices, or a little of both, then you have a "managed currency."

APPROVE PLAN OF THE SPIANS FOR BUILDING

City property at Twentieth and North Main streets will be posted for special use as the site for the proposed building of the Santa Ana Community players following favorable action taken by the city council last night after the planning commission had passed on the proposition.

W. H. Spurgeon, president of the dramatic group, made a written application to use the property located to the city from the Bowers estate. It would be used for the location of The Barn, traditional meeting place of the players, which has been located on East Fourth street for many years. The new building, of frame construction, would be built with labor financed through R. F. C. funds and with material paid for by members of the group, it is planned.

In his letter, Spurgeon said that the present trees on the property would not be sacrificed and that the building would be moved whenever desired by the council. It will be 36 by 66 feet and contain a large auditorium with stage, small kitchen and small dressing rooms. Rough plans were exhibited by Frank Lansdowne, member of the association.

Councilmen expressed favor regarding the project and indicated that it would be an improvement on the land with the Bowers museum just across the street. W. J. Tway, secretary of the planning commission, accepted the council's recommendation, had the application approved by the commission and had the councilmen set a joint hearing for protests on Monday, November 20.

COUNCIL NOTES

Harry G. Wetherell, 417 Bush street, was denied his request for a refund on a business license because he was discontinuing his business.

Leigh Mallory, 714 Orange street and Byron E. Merchant, 2705 West First street, applied for permits to operate taxis in Santa Ana. The requests were referred to Police Commissioner E. G. Warner for investigation.

A resolution of thanks was sent by the city council to the Los Angeles board of health for the use of 750 rat traps since May in the campaign to rid Santa Ana of rodents.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Dear Editor:—Recent activities by certain members of a national organization have confronted us students and we feel that it is now necessary for some explanation to be made.

In reference to the recent Armistice day parade, we students were not at first granted the privilege of participating. Later, we were granted the right to march provided that no placards nor banners with peace slogans or even Biblical quotations were carried. The carrying of peace slogans and Biblical quotations was called "Communist" and under this guise came the refusal.

What is the celebration of Armistice for if not for peace? It is the day on which peace was declared and all hostilities ceased. This armistice was the peace treaty that ended the war which was fought to end all wars.

Now there is an Americanizing organization that is trying to militarize behind the skirts of Americanism. These skirts are ample enough to effectively conceal the real reasons for various activities. Why do I think this? What reasons have I to think this?

I do not wish to appear politically prejudiced. However, Norman Thomas was refused the privilege of talking to the students in the assembly. Thomas is noted for his antagonism to war and its attendant evils. I do not think this refusal was really caused by the school authorities. Then, a few weeks later the students were given a speaker who started his talk with, "I do not desire war and I am not talking for it." Then spent the rest of the time telling what a noble opportunity it offers to the young man to make a hero of himself and why we should arm to the teeth. This inconsistency is so apparent that we must discount his opening idea.

It has been noted that pressure has been brought to bear upon the personnel of our educational institutions to prevent the discussion openly of current problems which today are so vital.

Thus we see that these various activities and restrictions are made under the name "Americanism." This forces us to wonder what Americanism means and how the Americanization committee interprets it. It seems to be interpreted as the glorifying of militarism and the suppression of all activities that tend to inquire into the social and political life blood of our country.

Now, Mr. Burke, you have been accused by "misinformed newspapers" of encouraging the critical attitudes of the students against certain Legionnaires and their policies. This accusation is false. These Legionnaires themselves have created this resentment by their own inconsistent statements and activities. I sincerely hope that the attitude of these members is not the attitude of all the members of the Legion.

Sincerely,
A STUDENT.

Editor Register:

The man who never makes a mistake never does anything, but the man that makes too many loses his job. Now I agree with you in many respects, but I feel your criticism or cunning way of bawling out a certain farmers' organization needs a little explaining. Now if your paper has been correct in the past, this organization is the only one which has tried and been successful in even making it possible that the farmers of Orange county are even eligible to make applications for Federal loans. It has worked continually, consistently and constructively in this matter. Has Mr. McKinney or some of the other county groups done anything?

This county was barred from Federal loans a short time ago and it was only through the earnest effort of the Farm Bureau that we begin to see some light now. I will admit it would be fine for some of our Shylocks that have loaned more money on property than it was really worth to be able to have Uncle Sam take some one's else money and pay them up. If those boys would take a reasonable loss and scale down their loans they would surely help matters along.

As a matter of fact the government is not loaning money. It is merely helping the farmers to establish their own bank. Any money loaned must first be secured by sale of land bank bonds. They must be repaid and be as interest. This is the farmer's own bank to serve farmers and to make it possible for safe investment to investors, so it must be established on a firm foundation.

I think if as much effort to put this over as has been put forth to bring back beer and repeal the Eighteenth amendment, many of us would have aid now. We will never swim the river of depression astride of a beer barrel or a whiskey keg either. What we need is clear thinking, honest effort, true cooperation, less suspicion and more facts.

Now Mr. Editor, what we want in a newspaper is news. So the next time you have some groups or organizations to razz, why don't you publish it in your public forum where I expect to see this. I have taken your paper for years and hope to continue and I realize mistakes are apt to be made but keep them to a minimum.

NEED OF NEW CITY HALL SET IN RESOLUTION

In compliance with legal regulations, the city council last night adopted an emergency resolution setting forth the need for a new city hall because of the destruction of the former building at Third and Main streets, and at an adjourned meeting this afternoon at 1:30, gave first reading to an ordinance calling a special election for the voting of bonds on December 15.

City Attorney Clyde Downing presented the resolution, which stipulated that Santa Ana, without a city hall because of the earthquake in March, erection of a new building would stimulate employment, that money was being allocated by the federal government for such purposes and that the city council deemed that in response to public interest, the cost of erection of a city hall was too great to come from general funds and should be financed through a special election.

At the last meeting of the city council, first reading was given to the ordinance calling the election but this was disregarded in the passage of the resolution last night. Following the reading of the election ordinance, the necessary five days will elapse before the next meeting of the board, when it will be finally adopted.

The ordinance includes the proviso that the voters shall approve the issuance of $70,000 in bonds, which will not be sold until the federal government guarantees to grant $30,000 on the project. This provision will be carried on the ballot.

SET DATE FOR ZONE CHANGE HEARING

Decision to post property at Santa Clara and Bush streets for a nursery and hold a joint hearing for protests on Monday, November 20, was made by the city council last night on the recommendation of the planning commission.

Charles Chatlain, owner of the triangular piece of property bounded by Santa Clara avenue, Bush street and the Southern Pacific railroad, appeared before the planning commission and council. A nursery now conducted at 211 East Twentieth street will be moved to the location if insufficient protests are made to have the council deny the request to change the zone from a single residence to a neighborhood business.

FURNITURE DEALER GIVES EXPLANATION

Explaining his position in conducting a second hand furniture business, J. S. Metzgar, 2435 Spurgeon street, appeared before the city council yesterday following a protest made at the meeting last week by four dealers of Santa Ana.

Metzgar pointed out that the protest over his business came from only four second hand furniture dealers out of the more than 18 doing business in Santa Ana. He also said that he had a city license to conduct a business at his location and that it had been approved by the planning commission more than a year ago.

Metzgar said that his advertising had been examined by three leading legal authorities and declared entirely within the law and not misleading, as claimed by his competitors.

START MOVE TO HINRICHS NEW GET REVERSAL HEAD OF 4-H ON DECISION CLUB LEADERS

Attempts to secure a rehearing on the recent state supreme court decision making cities of the state liable for the delinquencies on street assessment bonds taken out under the Act of 1915, will be carried on by the city attorneys of Burbank and Lakeport, acting as special counsel, it was learned at the city council meeting last night from City Attorney Clyde Downing.

Downing has been attending meetings of Southern California officials interested in securing a reversal of the decision which it is said will virtually bankrupt many cities. It is hoped that the matter eventually will go before the United States Supreme Court.

City Auditor Lloyd Banks has estimated that if the decision is allowed to stand, Santa Ana would be liable for about $125,000 at the present time, which will be greater if delinquencies increase in coming months.

H. J. Hinrichs of West Orange, was chosen president of the inter-city council of 4-H leaders, and Mrs. Floyd Benson, of Anaheim, secretary, at their meeting held recently at Chino. Jack Rude of San Bernardino county was elected vice president to serve for the coming year with these officers.

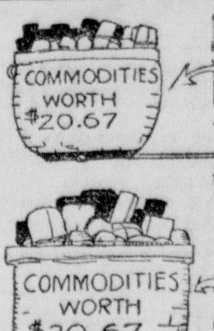

The meeting opened with a 5:30 p. m. dinner at the social hall of the Chino M. E. church. More than 50 4-H leaders and extension agents from Orange, Los Angeles, Riverside and San Bernardino counties were present.

President Paul Pierce of Riverside called the meeting to order and W. R. (Bob) Ralston, executive from the Berkeley offices announced the Great Western Livestock show in Los Angeles on December 2. 4-H members will be admitted to the show free and will be furnished lunches at noon. A small charge will be made for the rodeo in the afternoon.

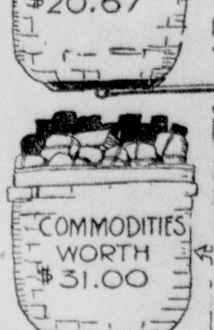

Ralston then discussed the requirements for membership to the senior 4-H clubs. Senior members must be more than 15 years of age and must have completed 4 years of 4-H club work, he said. GOLD POLICY PURPOSE

UNDER the rigid gold standard, the price of gold and the value of money in gold was fixed, one ounce of gold being worth $20.67. Under President Roosevelt's new gold policy, the government is given the power to vary, at will, the number of dollars it will give for each ounce of gold. Through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, newly mined gold is bought at the government's price. The R. F. C. also can buy and sell gold abroad, thus influencing the foreign market value of American money.

Under our former rigid gold standard, money worth one ounce of gold bought $20.67 worth of commodities.

Under that standard, when there is an oversupply of commodities, commodity prices go down—that is, money worth one ounce of gold still buys $20.67 worth of commodities, but $20.67 worth is more of any commodity at the lower prices. Let's say it becomes 50 per cent more.

Under such a condition of oversupply and falling prices, if the price of gold is raised, say 50 per cent, then an ounce of gold, now $31, would buy only as many commodities as it did when it was worth $20.67. The price of commodities has thus been raised 50 per cent, and restored to the level it held before the 50 per cent decline caused by oversupply.

THE purpose of President Roosevelt's new gold policy is to raise prices of commodities. It is intended to work in this way: By raising the number of dollars paid for an ounce of pure gold, the government is making each of those dollars of less value in terms of the gold it will buy. Saying the same thing, differently, it would take MORE of these less-valuable dollars to buy a given quantity of any commodity, than before the price of gold was arbitrarily raised. When you regulate prices in terms of dollars, or dollars in terms of prices, or a little of both, then you have a "managed currency."

It would be used for the location of The Barn, traditional meeting place of the players, which has been located on East Fourth street for many years. The new building, of frame construction, would be built with labor financed through R. F. C. funds and with material paid for by members of the group. It is planned.

This test has proved to many men and women that their trouble was not "weak bowels", but strong cathartics.

First, Select a good liquid laxative. 2. Take the dose you find is suited to your system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving regularly without any need of stimulation.

Syrup Pepsin has the highest standing among liquid laxatives, and is the one generally used. It contains senna, a natural laxative which is perfectly safe for the youngest child. Your druggist has Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

3. Banish Bowel Fatigue and the laxative habit

Here's Why:

Any hospital offers evidence of the harm done by harsh laxatives that drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and in some cases even affect the liver and kidneys.

A doctor will tell you that the unwise choice of laxatives is a common cause of chronic constipation. Fortunately, the public is fast returning to the use of laxatives in liquid form.

A properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement. There is no discomfort at the time and no weakness after. You don't have to take "a double dose" a day or two later.

In buying any laxative, always read the label. Not the claims, but the contents. If it contains one doubtful drug, don't take it.

MACPHAIL BRINGS REDS COLOR

A new pilot at the helm of the Cincinnati Reds' baseball craft will take the wheel next season in an effort to lift the team out of cellar doldrums. . . . He is Larry MacPhail, former football official . . . and successful manager of the Columbus, Ohio, Redbirds in the American association. . . . MacPhail succeeds Sidney Weil, retiring president, who failed to boost the Reds higher than seventh place during his four-year term.

LARRY MACPHAIL

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14.—One of baseball's colorful figures comes out of the bushes and into the big leagues with the advent of Leiland Stanford ("Larry") MacPhail to the presidency of the Cincinnati Reds.

"Dizzy" Dean, Art Shires and other headline boys of the playing field become mere rephers of personal exploitation compared to the storm of modern ideas and innovations continually perpetrated by this genius of the front office.

Considering his intimate knowledge of affairs on the playing field his baseball background seems singularly meager. He played ball at college, and for three summers in the Mint league, a now defunct Class D loop. Later he managed a semi-pro outfit at his home town, Ludington, Mich.

Larry went to college at Beloit, University of Michigan, Georgetown and George Washington, taking his law degree from the latter. He played first base at Beloit for one year and two at Michigan. He played quarterback and halfback at Beloit and Georgetown.

After that he practiced law and was a sales manager for a tool manufacturing concern in Chicago, moved to Nashville to become president of a dry goods store and, after the war, came to Columbus, O., where he was an automobile distributor and a builder.

He came back into baseball when he purchased the Columbus club from the Cincinnati Reds in 1920. At that time Columbus had gone 25 years without a pennant and had been a second division outfit for 15 consecutive seasons.

In the last 15 years its various owners had lost $500,000. MacPhail sold his club to the St. Louis Cardinals because they had the most players to offer him. He held the Columbus presidency, but transferred his stock to St. Louis.

During that first season they said MacPhail had three teams operating—one playing, one going and another one on the way. Columbus finished fourth and made money. More than 75 players were on the club payroll at one time or another.

The next season, 1922, Columbus finished second and moved into a new ball park in mid-season, the finest minor league ball park in the country. In a year of depression the club set a new record for attendance and again made money.

Then, after he got his club away to a comfortable lead in 1923, MacPhail was fired. No reason was advanced. It was one of the mysteries of the minor league season.

Although it never has been told, MacPhail lost his job because he was such a great fan himself. He had an agreement with the Cardinals that they could not raid his club in mid-season.

The Cardinals wanted a young Columbus second baseman named Burgess Whitehead. MacPhail

FOOTE PREDICTS SAINT VICTORY

COOK RETURNS TO DONS: TEAM IN GOOD SHAPE

His condition greatly improved, Coach Bill Cook of the Dons was able to return to his duties at Santa Ana Junior college today, following an appendicitis attack during the halves of the Santa Ana-Chaffey football game at Ontario Saturday.

Cook was confined to his home on South Garnsey street Sunday and Monday, after being removed Saturday night from the San Antonio Community hospital in Upland, where he was taken for observation.

Feeling much better yesterday, Coach Cook dressed in street clothes for the first time since Saturday, and sat in his car to watch the Dons go through their regular Monday drill under the direction of Assistant Ed Adams, all-conference end here in '29 and Oregon State graduate.

The Dons came out of their Chaffey assignment with several bruises but there is not a player who will be physically handicapped for Santa Ana's fifth conference game at San Bernardino Saturday afternoon.

Chaffey offered the Dons their greatest opposition of the season, in the opinion of the players, and it will not surprise any of them if the Panthers dump Riverside in their big Thanksgiving day struggle at Ontario. The Dons considered themselves fortunate to get past Chaffey, 7-6, but felt they earned everything they made.

Harold Welty, Ray Hapes and Bob Mitchell, Don backfield stars, sustained minor cuts and knes, injuries Saturday. Rugged "Porky" Bell, Cook's brilliant blocker, and Wilburn Anderson, who twice saved the Dons from defeat with great tackles, escaped without a scratch.

Zeno Shelley, running guard, and Horace Rittner, 196-pound end, showed great improvement against Chaffey, and both will be due for considerable action in the San Bernardino and Fullerton games. Rittner looked fine on defense, Shelley made an all-around showing.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 14.—(UP)—Max Baer, the leading heavyweight contender, has signed an agreement to meet any other fighter the matchmakers select at an open air fight to be held at Wrigley field, Los Angeles, late in December, officials of the Hollywood Legion stadium announced today.

MINNESOTA THREAT TO MICHIGAN TITLE

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Western conference championship honors seemed closer today for the Michigan football team, the only Big Ten team that remains undefeated.

Having trampled down the worthy Iowa Hawkeyes Saturday by a 10 to 6 score at Ann Arbor, the mighty men of Michigan face a difficult barrier on the titled road next week end when Minnesota, an old and dangerous foe, engages the Wolverine battalion.

That Minnesota may prove the sinister foe of the season for Michigan was demonstrated when the Northwestern rose up and whipped the Pittsburgh earlier in the season. Bernie Bierman has been keying his Gopher machine for the Michigan battle since one week ago and the team should be at its peak.

Michigan boasts conference victories over Ohio State, Chicago, Illinois and Iowa.

Three more Big Ten championship games are on call for next Saturday in addition to the Minnesota-Michigan headliner. Chicago, still to see its first league victory this fall, goes to Champlain to meet the University of Illinois eleven. Iowa will try to forget last Saturday when the Hawkeyes met Purdue at Lafayette. Ohio State clashes with Wisconsin while Northwestern meet the luckless Notre Dame Team.

STANFORD GRIDMEN GET TWO-DAY REST

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Stanford's football team was still enjoying a two-day rest today after the U. S. C. game. The Cardinals met Montana here Saturday. The game is considered a "breather" before the annual "Big Game" with California, Nov. 25.

PHILLIES PURCHASE OANA OF PORTLAND

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—(INS)—The Phillies today had a full-fledged Hawaiian prince in their roster for next season. He is Henry Oana, who was purchased from the Portland club of the Pacific Coast league. Oana is an outfielder.

TENNIS

Pomona, rather than Santa Ana, will represent the Citrus Belt division in the playoffs for the Southern California Inter-club tennis championships. Pomona clinched first place in its league by defeating Riverside, 9-2, at Riverside Sunday.

Franchise In Majors Aim Of Montreal

MONTREAL, Nov. 14.—(UP)—Montreal interests will make a bid for a major league baseball franchise at next month's meeting of the major club owners in Chicago, it was announced definitely today.

Hector Racine and Charles Trudeau, president and vice president of Montreal's International league club, said they would attend the Chicago meeting and try to purchase a major franchise.

TIGERS EAGER TO REPRESENT EAST AT BOWL

By PAT ROBINSON (I.N.S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Nothing less than a Presidential command will get an unbeaten Army team to the Rose Bowl this year or any other year, the writer was informed today by an officer high in the councils at West Point.

But if California feels it must see a hitherto unbeaten, untied and unscathed Princeton team in action, it may do so by dropping a polite little note to Princeton, N. J., not forgetting, of course, to inclose sufficient financial inducements.

Naturally, the college made famous by "Big Bill" Edwards and Woodrow Wilson is too sacrosanct to be interested in anything so sordid as the dollar—especially a dollar that is dropping to the nadir. But if enough of them are laid on the line, the writer has been told, Princeton will not take more than one slight sniff from an upturned nostril—just for form's sake—before accepting.

At that, a Rose Bowl game might be a good thing for both Princeton and California. Each might get a truer slant on the other.

Princeton may be the seat of Eastern culture and social standing, but that doesn't deter it from having one of the biggest, snappiest and roughest football teams to be found anywhere.

These lads play real football and if any of them are in the social registers of their native cities, they forget it when they trot out on the gridiron. You may recall that Harvard broke off relations with them a few years ago because, Harvard charged, the Princeton boys were somewhat careless where they parked their fists.

Any team that could run up 29 points on a Columbia team good enough to outclass Navy, the conqueror of Notre Dame, must have real class and the Tigers have all of that.

The boys themselves are eager to go West and, since it's a million to one against the Army going, Princeton is the only Eastern candidate left.

Navy and Yale still have dates with Princeton but they have as much chance of trimming the Tiger's claws as a canary has of chasing a cat.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, FULLERTON MATCHED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 14.—The Huntington Beach high school Class "B" football team, Orange league champions, will play Fullerton high school here Friday at 3 p. m. The winner of this game will go to Los Angeles for the playoff of the Southern California "B" championship.

The school will charge 25 cents admission for this title game and student body tickets are not recognized at the gate.

The Fullerton school usually rarely has a date with Huntington Beach because of larger attendance, but Coach Harry Sheue's "Battling Bees" defeated Fullerton in an early season practice game here by the score of 7 to 6. It proved the only defeat for the Fullerton team this season as both teams fought their way through the season to titles in their respective leagues.

NEWPORT HARBOR'S FOOTBALL SQUAD SMALL BUT STALWART

When school opened, Coach Ralph Reed, of Newport Harbor high school had just 21 men report for football practice, out of which there were few that would rate fair varsity material. At no time did he have two complete teams for scrimmage and a few times, what with sickness and casualties, he was lucky to have enough for signal practice. In order to have capable reserves it was necessary to develop one man to play two or three positions.

Out of this little squad has been developed the scrappiest team in the Orange County league. Newport Harbor lost its first start to Huntington Beach through a blocked punt that went for a safety. At no time have the Sailors been outclassed, although Anaheim showed a stronger team. They have beaten Garden Grove and Orange and outplayed Tustin in a scoreless tie. Brea-Olinda hasn't won the title yet and Newport Harbor predicts a busy afternoon for the league-leading Wildcats Friday.

Dick Johnston probably is the best quarterback in the league, Irwin is outstanding at guard and Captain Ogden is good wherever he may be assigned, guard or fullback.

THREE CHEERS FOR A TIGER!

FOOTBALL CAMPS

(By United Press)

SANTA CLARA.—By improving a passing attack already excellent, Coach "Clipper" Smith of the Santa Clara Broncos hopes to upset the football world Sunday by defeating St. Mary's of Moraga in the annual "Little Big game" at San Francisco.

MORAGA.—Odds of 2 to 1 were quoted today to install the St. Mary's Gaels as favorites in their annual clash with Santa Clara Sunday.

BERKELEY.—Coach Bill Ingram declared a practice holiday and announced California would start work Wednesday for its Saturday game with Idaho.

PALO ALTO.—The Stanford campus today was still celebrating the victory over U. S. C. Even the revered tom-tom, usually saved for wins over California, added its boom to the noise-making.

MOSCOW, Ida.—Coach Leo Callard today taught his Idaho Vandals new plays planned to shake Willie (Little Dynamite) Smith loose against the California Golden Bears Saturday.

SEATTLE.—University of Washington's Huskies hope to avenge themselves on California's "Little brothers", U. C. L. A., for the 33-0 defeat the Berkeley Bears gave the Phelan eleven Saturday. The "little brothers" and the Huskies meet here Saturday.

LOS ANGELES.—Coach Bill Spaulding of U. C. L. A. prepared today to sacrifice experience for weight in developing a heavier line to shoot against Washington Saturday. "Duke" Trotter, second-string center, was shifted to left guard while "Teek" Baldwin was advanced to the other guard position in the interest of greater weight. Spaulding will take 30 men north with him.

JESS WILLARD HELD ON BATTERY CHARGE

GLENDALE, Nov. 14.—(UP)—Jess Willard, former world heavyweight boxing champion, was held on battery charge today, waiting to obtain Willard's name and license number after a collision. Willard pleaded not guilty.

ST. MARY'S-DETROIT GAME PLAN DENIED

MORAGA, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Coach "Slip" Madigan of St. Mary's today denied reports from Detroit that the Gaels might meet the University of Detroit in a post-season game.

Madigan said the Gaels already have a post-season game scheduled with Southern Methodist in San Francisco December 9.

Of course, a lot of things can happen before Princeton reaches the end of its nine-game string this year. It's hardly reasonable to expect a coach in his second year to step right out and bring home all the bacon.

But Crisler has proved that he has a surprise team at Princeton this year and, in place of being an underdog, the squad will rank as favorites in the games left on the schedule—Navy, Rutgers and Yale.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 14.—(INS)—Johnny Doege, National tennis champion in 1931, today is a citizen of the United States. Doege came under the Stars and Stripes in federal court yesterday. He was born in Mexico of British parents.

Sam Byrd Of Yanks Turns Pro Golfer

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 14. Sam Byrd, New York Yankee outfielder, will play as a professional golfer in all future tournaments.

The Birmingham, Ala., athlete, long recognized as the best golfer in baseball, will pair with Billy Burke, in the best ball championships today to start his pro career.

They will compete such teams as Tommy Armour and Al Mayhew, Bobby Cruickshank and Al Espinosa, Mike and Joe Turner, Johnny Golden and Willy Klein, Horton Smith and Clarence Clark, Wiffy Cox and Bill Melhorn and Johnny Farrell and Tommy Herrigan.

IMPROVEMENT OF OREGON DUE TO CRACK LINE

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 14.—(UP)—Prince Callison, youthful Oregon football coach, borrowed a baseball phrase—"change of pace"—to today his was the only unbeaten-untied team on the Pacific Coast.

Although the Oregon Webfoet have two more hurdles, neither of which could exactly be classed as sinecures, in Southern California and St. Mary's, Oregon hopefuls already are dreaming of New Year's Day in Pasadena and a potential National crown.

Unless it is that "change of pace" it is difficult to diagnose the factors which lifted a mediocre 1932 team to one of the coast luminaries in 1933. No outstanding player is entirely responsible. Neither is any manner of playing, nor any "system."

Oregon has four fine ball-carriers in Mike Mikulak, Mark Temple, Leighton Gee and Bob Parke. They work behind an experienced hard-charging line.

Oregon's attack is bewildering because all four backs carry the ball. Gee is a superb cutback runner. Temple is the inspiration to his team and against Oregon State showed almost unbelievable power for a 175-pounder.

Parke does the kicking and is developing into a ball-carrier as well as a fine interference runner. The line is good, but not brilliant, from end to end. It out-charged and ripped wide the Oregon State line which held El Trojan.

Callison is a rare one among coaches. He refuses even to admit that his team is good.

"The boys played their best game of the year against Oregon State," Callison told the United Press today. "They were at their peak. We will be handicapped against U. S. C. with Hughes and Earle out of the game, but the spirit of the team is fine."

OREGON FEARS HEAT AT LOS ANGELES

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 14.—(UP)—There was mixed joy and gloom on University of Oregon campus today.

The good news came from Bill Hayward, Oregon trainer, who said that Bernie Hughes, center, and Alex Eagle and "Bip" Nilsson, tackles, will be ready to play against Southern California Saturday.

The bad news was contained in dispatches from Los Angeles that the temperature there rose to 96 degrees. Heat is one thing Northern teams fear more than anything else in playing late games in California. With the temperature here only a few degrees above freezing the change is so great that "our legs don't work," as one grifter expressed it.

Hughes and Eagle were injured in the Oregon State game and it was at first feared both would be lost to the Webfoet in Saturday's contest. Nilsson, the outstanding tackle of early season has been out since the Columbia game when he twisted his knee. Nilsson will start at right tackle which will leave Gardner and Frye as a first class substitute for either Nilsson or Eagle.

The regulars took their first stiff workout against Southern California formations this afternoon.

COOK RETURNS TO DONS: TEAM IN GOOD SHAPE

BAER SIGNS TO BOX 'ANYBODY' THIS DECEMBER

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 14.—(UP)—Max Baer, the leading heavyweight contender, has signed an agreement to meet any other fighter the matchmakers select at an open air fight to be held at Wrigley field, Los Angeles, late in December, officials of the Hollywood Legion stadium announced today.

Jones Drops Dye, Demotes Griffith And Gordon Clark

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—(INS)—University of Southern California football players discarded two years' newspaper clippings and mirrors today and settled down in a serious effort to whip Oregon university here Saturday and remain in the running for a bid to play in the annual New Year's Day game in the Pasadena Rose Bowl.

Coach Howard Jones executed a major shakeup of U. S. C. whose two year streak of 27 games without defeat was broken by Stanford last Saturday.

John Dye, two-year letterman, relief center, was dropped from the squad for failure to obey training rules and two other regulars were demoted to the third team. They were Homer Griffith and Gordon Clark.

It was the first time Jones in his reign at S. C. has ordered a major shakeup so late in the season.

CARNERA TO RETURN TO U. S. IN JANUARY

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Primo Carnera, heavyweight champion, will return to this country about Jan. 15, Billy Duffy, one of his American board of managers announced today. Duffy is trying to have Madison Square Garden arrange a winter bout for Carnera at Miami. The Garden may try to bill Jack Sharkey with Primo in a return engagement.

MacPhail himself is a dynamic, restless and aggressive sort of person. He has red hair, thousands of freckles, dresses immaculately in shades of gray and brown, always wears his hat brim turned down and is only 43 years old. His hobby is refereeing football games. Last season he worked 22 games, including such teams as Marquette, Illinois, Ohio State, Indiana, Xavier, Michigan State, West Virginia, Detroit and Ford-ham.

THREE CHEERS FOR A TIGER!

FOOTBALL CAMPS

(By United Press)

SANTA CLARA.—By improving a passing attack already excellent, Coach "Clippy" Smith of the Santa Clara Broncos hopes to upset the world Sunday by defeating St. Mary's of Moraga in the annual "little big game" at San Francisco.

MORAGA.—Odds of 2 to 1 were quoted today to install St. Mary's Gaels as favorites in their annual clash with Santa Clara Sunday.

BERKELEY.—Coach Bill Ingram declared a practice holiday and announced California would start work Wednesday for its Saturday game with Idaho.

PALO ALTO.—The Stanford campus today was still celebrating the victory over U. S. C. Even the reversed tom-tom, usually saved for wins over California, added its boom to the noise-making.

MOSCOW, Ida.—Coach Leo Calland today taught his Idaho Vandals new plays planned to shake Willie (Little Bear) Smith loose against the California Golden Bears Saturday.

SEATTLE.—University of Washington's Huskies hope to avenge themselves on California's "little brothers," U. C. L. A., for the 32-0 defeat the Berkeley Bears gave the Phelan eleven Saturday. The "little brothers" and the Huskies met here Saturday.

LOS ANGELES.—Coach Bill Spaulding of U. C. L. A. prepared today to sacrifice experience for weight in developing a heavier line to shoot against Washington Saturday. "Duke" Trotter, second-string center, was shifted to left guard while "Tex" Baldwin was advanced to the other guard position in the interest of greater weight. Spaulding will take 30 men north with him.

JESS WILLARD HELD ON BATTERY CHARGE

GLENDAL, Nov. 14.—(UP)—Jess Willard, former world heavyweight boxing champion, was at liberty under bond today, waiting trial December 5 on a battery charge growing out of an automobile accident.

The charge was preferred by Joe Loureno who accused Willard of striking him when he sought to obtain Willard's name and license number after a collision. Willard pleaded not guilty.

ST. MARY'S-DETROIT GAME PLAN DENIED

MORAGA, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Coach "Bilp" Madigan of St. Mary's today denied reports from Detroit that the Gaels might meet the University of Detroit in a post-season game.

Madigan said the Gaels already have a post-season game scheduled with Southern Methodist in San Francisco December 9.

NEWPORT HARBOR'S FOOTBALL SQUAD SMALL BUT STALWART

When school opened, Coach Ralph Reed, of Newport Harbor high school had just 21 men report for football practice, out of which there were few that would rate fair varsity material. At no time did he have two complete teams for scrimmage and a few times, what with sickness and casualties, he was lucky to have enough for signal practice. In order to have capable reserves it was necessary to develop one man to play two or three positions.

Out of this little squad has been developed the scrappiest team in the Orange County league. Newport Harbor lost its first start to Huntington Beach through a blocked punt that went for a safety. At no time have the Sailors been outclassed, although Anaheim showed a stronger team. They have beaten Garden Grove and Orange and outplayed Tustin in a scoreless tie. Brea-Olinda hasn't won the title yet and Newport Harbor predicts a busy afternoon for the league-leading Wildcats Friday.

Dick Johnston probably is the best quarterback in the league, Irwin is outstanding at guard and Captain Ogden is good wherever he may be assigned, guard or fullback.

Sam Byrd Of Yanks Turns Pro Golfer

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 14. Sam Byrd, New York Yankee outfielder, will play as a professional golfer in all future tournaments.

The Birmingham, Ala., athlete, long recognized as the best golfer in baseball, will pair with Billy Burke, in the best ball championships today to start his pro career.

They will compete such same as Tommy Armour and Al Mayhew, Bobby Cruikshank and Al Espinosa, Mike and Joe Turnesa, Johnny Golden and Willy Klein, Horton Smith and Clarence Clark, Wiffy Cox and Bill Melhorn and Johnny Farrell and Tommy Herrigan.

IMPROVEMENT OF OREGON DUE TO CRACK LINE

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 14.—(UP)—Prince Callison, youthful Oregon football coach, borrowed a baseball phrase—"change of pace"—and today his was the only unbeaten-untied team on the Pacific Coast.

Although the Oregon Webfoot have two more hurdles, neither of which could exactly be classed as sinecures, in Southern California and St. Mary's, Oregon hopefuls already are dreaming of New Year's Day in Pasadena and a potential National crown.

Unless it is that "change of pace" it is difficult to diagnose the factors which lifted a mediocre 1932 team to one of the coast luminaries in 1933. No outstanding player is entirely responsible. Neither is any manner of playing, nor any "system."

Oregon has four fine ball-carriers in Mike Mikulak, Mark Temple, Leighton Gee and Bob Parke. They work behind an experienced hard-charging line.

Oregon's attack is bewildering because all four backs carry the ball. Gee is a superb outback runner. Temple is the inspiration to his team and against Oregon State showed almost unbelievable power for a 175-pounder.

Parke does the kicking and is developing into a ball-carrier as well as a fine interference runner. The line is good, but not brilliant, from end to end. It out-charged and ripped wide the Oregon State line which held El Trojan.

Callison is a rare one among coaches. He refuses even to admit that his team is good.

"The boys played their best game of the year against Oregon State," Callison told the United Press today. "They were at their peak. We will be handicapped against U. S. C. with Hughes and Eagle out of the game, but the spirit of the team is fine."

OREGON FEARS HEAT AT LOS ANGELES

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 14.—(UP)—There was mixed joy and gloom on University of Oregon campus today.

The good news came from Bill Hayward, Oregon trainer, who said that Bernie Hughes, center, and Alex Eagle and "Biff" Nilsson, tackles, will be ready to play against Southern California Saturday.

The bad news was contained in dispatches from Los Angeles that the temperature there rose to 96 degrees. Heat is one thing Northern teams fear more than anything else in playing late games in California. With the temperature here only a few degrees above freezing the change is so great that "our legs don't work," as one gridster expressed it.

Hughes and Eagle were injured in the Oregon State game and it was at first feared both would be lost to the Webfoot in Saturday's contest. Nilsson, the outstanding tackle of early season has been out since the Columbia game when he twisted his knee. Nilsson will start at right tackle which will leave Gardner and Frye as a first class substitute for either Nilsson or Eagle.

The regulars took their first stiff workout against Southern California formations this afternoon.

BILL BELIEVES TEAM DUE FOR BEST '33 GAME

Borrowing some of the thunder of Stanford's "Tiny" Thornhill, who glibly prophesied a victory over Southern California, Coach Bill Foote today flatly predicted a triumph for Santa Ana Hi over Alhambra at Poly Field Saturday afternoon.

There were no ifs, ands or buts about it. There were no strings attached to his prognostication.

"We'll beat 'em," said Foote. "We'll take 'em by two touchdowns."

"Little Bill" is supremely confident that his long-suffering Saints beaten five times this season, are ready to play their finest game of the 1933 season against George Holmes Moors. He bases his opinion on more on his observations in practice this week, he explains, than on his knowledge of the Santa Ana material.

Inferiority Complex Gone

"We have a good football team, have had it all season," Foote declared. "The boys are inexperienced and they lack confidence. But they left their inferiority complex at home the day of the Glendale game. Out of that victory came a new Santa Ana football squad, a club that is as powerful as any in the Coast Preparatory league, a team that will prove it against Alhambra."

The Alhambra Moors, like Santa Ana, are virtually out of the running for the Coast league title. The championship this year is between Pasadena, which is undefeated, and Long Beach and San Diego. Alhambra tied San Diego, however, and lost to Long Beach only in the last 49 seconds of play. The Moors are considered as able as any in the conference, despite their poor showing against Pasadena their last time out.

One thing that encouraged Foote and perhaps led him to publicly predict a win over Alhambra, was the sudden return to form of Walt Hendrie, a left halfback, from whom much was expected this year. Hendrie went into a mid-season slump, and Foote had to bench him in favor of Fred Erdhaus, a maverick end who threw the passes that beat Glendale, 14-0.

Hendrie Battles for Job

Hendrie was inclined to take matters easily, but when Erdhaus beat him out of his job began to apply the pressure in an effort to reinstate himself. He hasn't ousted Erdhaus yet, but Hendrie's improvement at least gives Foote two real threats at the key position.

Hendrie is faster than Erdhaus, but hasn't shown the power or blocking ability. They are both expert passers, and Hendrie also kicks competently.

Bill Hawkins, left end, is the only Saint casualty now, aside from Halfback Ray Clark who has been out ever since the Covina game with a broken ankle. Hawkins suffered a broken rib in the Glendale affair, and is not likely to play Saturday. Dick Crowl, who has been at nearly every position at one time or another this year, has been shifted to the position. Foote also is working Erwin Youel and Fred Southworth there. He hasn't made up his mind who'll start.

Otherwise, the Santa Ana lineup probably will show Levens at quarter, Erdhaus and Stranks at halfback, Nott at full, Williams to play right end, Williams and Boomer at tackle, Captain Underwood and DeSmet at guard, Hamilton at center. This is substantially the lineup Foote used against Glendale.

Plans For Recount Dropped As Talbert Seated

COUNCIL ASKS DATA ON NEW FIRE STATION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 14.—T. B. Talbert, chosen councilman at the election November 6, was sworn in and participated in the session of the city council last night, completing the board of five members. The city council canvassed the returns of the election and declared Talbert elected by 14 votes. There was no protest or request for a recount of the votes.

Following the seating of Talbert as a member of the council a recess was taken to decide whether the month was examined, the council later ordering the bills paid. Later in the evening a second recess was taken to decide whether the council members would attend the meeting with the governor in Sacramento tomorrow to discuss the state lawsuit against operators in the town lot field. No decision was reached at the recess and the council adjourned to meet again at 8 o'clock this afternoon to act on this matter.

Chief J. K. Sargent of the first department asked the council to install a fire station with necessary equipment in the town lot field in the west part of the city. He said in the written communication on the subject that the fire hazard in the town lot field was great owing to heavy oil storage there and the closely drilled wells. He cited the recent fire there as an example and stated that had it not been for aid his department received from Wilshire Oil company's private fire department and aid from the Long Beach fire department he felt the fire might have caused far greater damage than it did.

The council on motion of Councilman Talbert requested the fire chief to make a detailed report as to the cost of the extra fire station and present the report to the next session. In discussing the matter the council appeared to favor the plan of the fire chief. The fire chief also asked that the ordinance against taking the fire department here out of the city limits, be amended so that in instances where there was a call for the department to go outside the city, the trip might be made provided the city was reimbursed for the cost of the trip.

A resolution was adopted by the council making Ocean avenue from Twenty-third street to the west city limits a state highway, reserving the 30 foot strip leased to the Carr Oil company as to mineral rights and oil drilling rights. The resolution also included Hampshire avenue from the intersection of Seventeenth street and Hampshire to the intersection of the Coast boulevard and Hampshire state highway. The resolution permits the state to take over these two border streets as state highways and maintain them, relieving the city of this expense.

Name Chairmen For Red Cross

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 14.—At the meeting of the Red Cross board, the resignation of Mrs. Foster Elliott, tendered a month ago, was accepted with regrets. Mrs. Elliott, who served as corresponding secretary, has gone to Washington, D. C., for the winter. Miss Ida E. Bowen was appointed as acting secretary. Mrs. G. B. Dunham was named chairman of the Roll Call committee, with Mrs. Ada E. Purpus in charge of street meetings.

A letter of thanks was voted to the Rev. Raymond I. Brahams for donating to the relief committee half of the collection taken October 15, when the service clubs were honored at a special service.

President Theodor A. Cummings named the following committee to name a slate for officers and directors for the year 1934, and which will be voted upon at the December meeting: Mrs. Purpus, Miss Bowen and Mrs. Fred D. Wettes.

No More Piles

Doctor's Prescription Guaranteed

If you think an operation is always the only way to escape the misery of torturing Piles, it's because you haven't heard of the harmless internal medicine discovered by a western physician.

After years of study Dr. J. S. Leonard was convinced that the cause of Piles was internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins filled with stagnant blood—and that the right and safe way to get freedom from pile misery was to remove the cause with internal medicine. Immediately the doctor set to work to find the remedy. He succeeded and called his prescription HEM-ROID.

First every Pile sufferer may be benefited by Dr. Leonard's discovery, and there will be no doubting or delay in getting relief. He has authorized to guarantee HEM-ROID. No matter what kind of Piles you have, one bottle of HEM-ROID will show you the safe clean way to get rid of your pile misery or money-back.

URGENT CITIZENS NOT TO ACT ON SITE FOR P. O.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 14.—The chamber of commerce in session at luncheon Monday noon at the Golden Bear cafe voted to leave the matter of selection of the site for the new post office entirely to the treasury department and postal department of the United States. Citizens were urged not to take any further action toward influencing the selection of a post-office site.

This action of the chamber of commerce was taken as a protest against the fight over the post office site which was waged last February. Dozens of telegrams were sent to Washington. Letters followed the telegrams and the entire city was involved. No site was selected but the sites then presented are all before the government at this time. The chamber of commerce members by their action indicated that they felt enough wire-pulling had been done on the matter of a site.

The sites submitted and which filled the requirements of the department are as follows: No. 1, a site located at the southeast corner of Olive and Main street, seven vacant lots; No. 2, a site located at the southwest corner of Main and Orange, eight lots; No. 3, a site located at the southeast corner of Main and Orange, nine lots; No. 4, a site located at the northeast corner of Main and Orange; No. 5, a site located on city property, a part of Triangle park, including part of the present site of the Horseshoe clubhouse and grounds.

Work on the new post office is expected to start early in 1934. There will be about $54,000 spent on site and building, a reduction from the $80,000 originally appropriated for the post office here. The amount allotted will build a post office fully adequate to the needs of the city and any of the five locations are highly acceptable to most of the people of the community. It was claimed by speakers at the meeting.

The chamber endorsed the grammar school request for federal aid in building a new school to replace the one destroyed by the earthquake of last March. C. G. Ward paid a tribute to Mrs. May Jackson, secretary of the chamber for the part she played in securing the new post office building.

Those present were Dr. L. F. Whitaker, vice president, who presided; Dr. S. H. Huff, L. H. Keller, B. R. Ries, J. S. Denny, Tom Wiley, Harold Watson, C. G. Ward, C. P. Pann, C. P. Patton, C. R. Furr, R. G. Miller, Mrs. Mildred Ridgeway, F. S. Pickering, Dr. Stevenson, Mrs. May S. Jackson.

FIRE MENACES HOUSES NEAR LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 14.—Believed to have started when a passing motorist threw a lighted match or cigarette from a car window, a grass fire, shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, crept up the side of a steep hill at Aliso Vista, three miles south of here, and threatened a number of fine homes nestled several hundred feet above the ocean. The fire came within 50 feet of the nearest house and had it not been for a quick response by the Laguna Beach firemen to an alarm turned in by Mrs. George A. Portus, the blaze might have had serious results.

Fire Chief P. J. Bushman said the continued dry weather has created a new menace in this vicinity and issued a warning that care must be taken in the starting of fires near the hills.

The firemen were getting the Aliso Vista blaze under control a call was sent in from a farm three miles north of the city. When the Laguna firemen

COUNCIL DELAYS ACTION ON CONSTRUCTION OF GROINS IN WEST NEWPORT BEACH SECTION

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 14.—No action was taken by the city council when the matter of construction of groins in the West Newport Beach section was presented at last night's meeting. Ocean currents have caused considerable damage in the section recently.

City Engineer Patterson submitted figures showing that the cost where a groin was built every four blocks would be $25,000 and the cost $50,000 if one was constructed every two blocks. A special assessment district would have to be formed to handle the cost, it was indicated.

Suggestion was made that federal funds might be secured for the project but bonds would have to be voted, it was pointed out. One suggestion was that the R. F. C. might be willing to provide money for labor, with the city providing the materials.

Residents of Corona Del Mar petitioned the city to construct a comfort station on the beach on the east side of the jetty. No action was taken. The ownership of the beach was under control.

This strip has been in question for some time, the city claiming that the beach was built up through natural means. The spur intersects claim ownership of the strip. It is expected that the ownership of the beach will eventually be determined by a court suit.

A resolution was passed allowing George Hiner the use of the Newport Beach pier for a live bait stand at a $500 per year rental. Ten sacks of beans were given to the local American Legion post for distribution to needy families.

The next regular meeting of the council will be on December 4.

Plans For Recount Dropped As Talbert Seated

COUNCIL ASKS DATA ON NEW FIRE STATION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 14.—T. B. Talbert, chosen councilman at the election November 6, was sworn in and participated in the session of the city council last night, completing the board of five members. The city council canvassed the returns of the election and declared Talbert elected by 14 votes. There was no protest or request for a recount of the votes.

Following the seating of Talbert as a member of the council a recess was taken to decide whether the month was examined, the council later ordering the bills paid. Later in the evening a second recess was taken to decide whether the council members would attend the meeting with the governor in Sacramento tomorrow to discuss the state lawsuit against operators in the town lot field. No decision was reached at the recess and the council adjourned to meet again at 8 o'clock this afternoon to act on this matter.

Chief J. K. Sargent of the fire department asked the council to install a fire station with necessary equipment in the town lot field in the west part of the city. He said in the written communication on the subject that the fire hazard in the town lot field was great owing to heavy oil storage there and the closely drilled wells. He stated the recent fire there as an example and stated that had it not been for aid his department received from Wilshire Oil company's private fire department and aid from the Long Beach fire department he felt the fire might have caused far greater damage than it did.

The council on motion of Councilman Talbert requested the fire chief to make a detailed report as to the cost of the extra fire station and present the report to the next session. In discussing the matter the council appeared to favor the plan of the fire chief. The fire chief also asked that the ordinance against taking the fire department here out of the city limits, be amended so that in instances where there was a call for the fire department to go outside the city, the trip might be made provided the city was reimbursed for the cost of the trip.

A resolution was adopted by the council making Ocean avenue from Twenty-third street to the west city limits a state highway, reserving the 30 foot strip leased to the Carr Oil company as to mineral rights and oil drilling rights. The resolution also included Hampshire avenue from the intersection of Seventeenth street and Hampshire to the intersection of the Coast boulevard and Hampshire state highway. The resolution permits the state to take over these two border streets as state highways and maintain them, relieving the city of this expense.

Name Chairmen For Red Cross

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 14.—At the meeting of the Red Cross board, the resignation of Mrs. Foster Elliott, tendered a month ago, was accepted with regrets. Mrs. Elliott, who served as corresponding secretary, has gone to Washington, D. C., for the winter. Miss Ida E. Bowen was appointed as acting secretary. Mrs. G. B. Dunham was named chairman of the Red Cross committee, with Mrs. Ada E. Purpus in charge of street booths.

A letter of thanks was voted to the Rev. Raymond L. Brahams for donating to the relief committee half of the collection taken October 15, when the service clubs were honored at a special service. President Thomas A. Cummings named the following committee to name a slate for officers and directors for the year 1934, and which will be voted upon at the December meeting: Mrs. Purpus, Miss Bowen and Mrs. Fred D. Pettis.

No More Piles

Doctor's Prescription Guaranteed
You think an operation is always the only way to escape the misery of torturing Piles, it's because you haven't heard of the harmless internal medicine discovered by a western physician.

After years of study Dr. J. S. Leonard was convinced that the cause of Piles was internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins filled with stagnant blood—and that the right and safe way to get freedom from Piles was to remove the cause with an internal medicine. Immediately the doctor set to work to find the remedy. He succeeded and called his prescription HEM-ROID.

That every Pile sufferer may benefit by Dr. Leonard's discovery, and that there will be no doubt or delay in getting relief, he has authorized his druggists are authorized to guarantee HEM-ROID. No matter what kind of Piles you have, one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must show you the safe clean way to get rid of your Piles misery or money-back.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rogers, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a dinner at their home in Garden Grove recently.

OBSERVE 60TH WEDDING EVENT WITH DINNER

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 14.—The 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rogers was celebrated recently at their home at the corner of Acacia and Walnut streets by a 1 o'clock dinner served to 21 relatives. The tables were formed in a "T" shape and decorated with tall pink and orchid tapers and various colored rose buds. The bride of 60 years cut the elaborately decorated wedding cake.

The couple received many lovely gifts, including a five dollar gold piece inscribed with the year of their marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers were married in Galena, Ill., November 12, 1873. The bride was Miss Lottie Clapper. She was 79 years old on October 4 and Mr. Rogers will be 81 years old December 30.

They came to California the following April after their marriage and settled in Westminster. In 1881 they moved to Laguna Beach, where Mr. Rogers built the house that is now known as the Laguna Woman's clubhouse. He was the first to engage in subdivision and one part is still known as the Rogers addition. He set out the first eucalyptus grove in that part of Orange county.

They resided in Orange county for 18 years and in the middle west for 28 years. They returned to Garden Grove 15 years ago and since that time have resided in the former home of Mr. Rogers' mother, Elizabeth Rogers, better known as "Grandma Rogers."

There are 11 children and all are living and married. There are 24 grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Their children are Mrs. Ora Broyles, of Lawrenceburg, Tenn.; Mrs. Elizabeth Brooks, of Kirksville, Mo.; Dr. Martha Langballe, Fillmore, Calif.; Ben Rogers, Tulare, Calif.; Harvey Rogers, Cornville, Ariz.; Arthur Rogers, Cornville, Ariz.; Frank Rogers, George H. Rogers, Amos Rogers, Elmer Rogers, and Mrs. Edward Moody, all of Garden Grove. Those present at the celebration besides the honored couple, were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers, and sons, Raymond and Lloyd; Mrs. Lloyd Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Rogers and sons, Edward and Paul, and daughter, Helen; Mr. and Mrs. Amos Rogers and daughter, Ella Mae; the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Moody and son, Edward, and daughter, Ruth; W. A. Bean, of Garden Grove, and Mrs. Abe Johnson, of Laguna Beach.

URGENT CITIZENS NOT TO ACT ON SITE FOR P. O.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 14.—The chamber of commerce in session at luncheon Monday noon at the Golden Bear cafe voted to leave the matter of selection of the site for the new post office entirely to the treasury department and postal department of the United States. Citizens were urged not to take any further action toward influencing the selection of a post-office site.

This action of the chamber of commerce was taken as a protest against the fight over the post office site which was waged here last February. Dozens of telegrams were sent to Washington. Letters followed the telegrams and the entire city was involved. No site was selected but the sites then presented are all before the government at this time. The chamber of commerce members by their action indicated that they felt enough wire-pulling had been done on the matter of a site.

The sites submitted and which filled the requirements of the department are as follows: No. 1, a site located at the southeast corner of Olive and Main street, seven vacant lots; No. 2, a site located at the southwest corner of Main and Orange, eight lots; No. 3, a site located at the southeast corner of Main and Orange, nine lots; No. 4, a site located at the northeast corner of Main and Orange; No. 5, a site located on city property, a part of Triangle park, including part of the present site of the Horseshoe clubhouse and grounds.

Work on the new post office is expected to start early in 1934. There will be about $54,000 spent on site and building, a reduction from the $80,000 originally appropriated for the post office here. The amount allotted will build a post office fully adequate to the needs of the city and any of the five locations are highly acceptable to most of the people of the community. It was claimed by speakers at the meeting.

The chamber endorsed the grammar school request for federal aid in building a new school to replace the one destroyed by the earthquake of last March. C. G. Ward paid a tribute to Mrs. May Jackson, secretary of the chamber for the part she played in securing the new post office building.

Those present were Dr. L. F. Whittaker, vice president, who presided; Dr. S. H. Haef, L. H. Kait, Dr. B. R. Ries, J. S. Denny, Tom Wiley, Harold Watson, C. G. Ward, C. P. Pann, C. P. Patton, C. R. Furr, R. G. Miller, Mrs. Mildred Ridgeway, F. S. Pickering, Dr. Stevenson, Mrs. May S. Jackson.

The drama and music sections have been discontinued until larger groups are present. A benefit bridge party is scheduled to be held at the clubhouse the evening of December 8. Members will form tables for the play and endeavor to fill the places. Prizes will be given.

FIRE MENACES HOUSES NEAR LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 14.—Believed to have started when a passing motorist threw a lighted match or cigarette from a car window, a grass fire, shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, crept up the side of a steep hill at Aliso Vista, three miles south of here, and threatened a number of fine homes nestled several hundred feet above the ocean. The fire came within 50 feet of the nearest house and had it not been for a quick response by the Laguna Beach firemen to an alarm turned in by Mrs. George A. Portus, the blaze might have had serious results.

Fire Chief P. J. Bushman said the continued dry weather has created a new menace in this vicinity and issued a warning that care must be taken in the starting of fires near the hills.

While the firemen were getting the Aliso Vista blaze under control a call was sent in from a farm three miles north of the city. When the Laguna firemen

COUNCIL DELAYS ACTION ON CONSTRUCTION OF GROINS IN WEST NEWPORT BEACH SECTION

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 14.—No action was taken by the city council when the matter of construction of groins in the West Newport Beach section was presented at last night's meeting. Ocean currents have caused considerable damage in the section recently.

City Engineer Patterson submitted figures showing that the cost where a groin was built every four blocks would be $25,000 and the cost $50,000 if one was constructed every two blocks. A special assessment district would have to be formed to handle the cost, it was indicated.

Suggestion was made that federal funds might be secured for the project but bonds would have to be voted. It was pointed out one suggestion was that the R. F. C. might be willing to provide money for labor, with the city providing the materials.

Residents of Corona Del Mar petitioned the city to construct a comfort station on the beach on the east side of the jetty. No action was taken. The ownership of the beach was taken. The ownership of the beach was taken. The ownership of the beach was taken.

PRESENT PLAY AT BEACH TWO NIGHTS

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 14.—Those who have been privileged to witness the rehearsals of "Meet the Wife," to be given at the Community club Wednesday night by the new Community Players, are predicting success for the comedy, according to Director John Hughes. Gene Ostman is doing a remarkable character study in the role of Victor Stanton and threatens to run away with the comedy of the show. Mrs. Polly Wuthenow, who jumped into the role of Mrs. Lennox at the last minute, is rounding out her work. The play will be repeated Saturday night of this week.

A resolution was passed allowing George Hiner the use of the Newport Beach pier for a live bait stand at a $500 per year rental. Ten sacks of beans were given to the local American Legion post for distribution to needy families.

The next regular meeting of the council will be on December 4.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

— News Behind The News —

WASHINGTON

By George Durno

WARRANTS

Back of President Roosevelt's creation of the Civil Works Administration were two smart pieces of politics.

The first was plain. Public Works Administration under the relentless anti-pork barrel scrutiny of Harold Ickes, hadn't produced enough immediate jobs to keep the unemployed home fires burning this winter.

So it became necessary to make snowballing a pleasure the next three months and CWA (are there no end to these initials?) was the answer.

This introduced Harry Hopkins, aged 45, in substitution for the role of being Federal Emergency Relief Administrator and all those other things he is now taking $400,000,000 of Public Works money into his own hands for the herculean task of putting 4,000,000 men into life-sustaining jobs by December 15.

That will make him the greatest single employer of labor in the world for the time being. Two million were scheduled back to work by tomorrow. You have followed his daily progress in the news columns.

Don't underestimate Hopkins' ability to attain the December 15 high-water mark. He has delivered the goods in the past without blowing of bugles.

FIXTURES

The secondary strategy of the Administration reaches deep.

The money the government and the states, counties and municipalities will put up for this new deal from the New Deal is to keep several million men employed for three months at from $50 to $60 a month. By the time this emergency payroll fund runs out, Congress will have been in session.

Can you imagine very many of your public servants on Capitol Hill voting against an appropriation to keep these men on the payroll?

As for ultimate attainment of the 4,000,000 goal for December 15, there might possibly be just one small joker.

The Post Office Department is getting ready for the annual Christmas rush. Many thousands find temporary employment during the holidays. It is suspected these men and women may be added to the total. Inquiry at the Post Office as to how many were so hired last year elicited the surprising answer it has been agreed NOT to make the 1932 figures public, but this year's will be available later.

Half a million employed for the better part of a month at about 55 cents an hour would be a most conservative estimate.

STAMPS

Commissar Maxim Litvinoff was dining at the White House for the first time. The whole world awaited breathlessly the flash of American recognition of Russia.

Ranged down the table in the order named were President Roosevelt, Litvinoff, Secretary of the Interior Ickes and M. Uman-sky, chief of the Soviet Press Bureau.

And while the wires palpitated for first word of the momentous decision, these four gentlemen animatedly discussed their stamp collections.

SINCLAIR

It was just like old times up in the Senate Office Building one day last week.

The Senate Banking Committee, through adroit examination by Prosecutor Pecora, was hearing about that Wall Street deal in which the principals and their friends cleared up over $12,000,000 without laying out a dime.

And back of the reluctant witness—Arthur Cutten, the big market manipulator—sat the lawyers of Harry F. Sinclair listening attentively to every word.

You may remember Sinclair as the oil magnate who finally went to jail for thumbing his nose at the same sort of committee several years back.

Sinclair and Cutten were key figures in the profitable syndicate which dealt in Sinclair Consolidated Oil stock. The oil man was to have followed Cutten on the witness stand but unfortunately had been taken ill at Sulphur Springs.

In a way, Sinclair's illness was fortunate, enabled his attorneys to digest Cutten's testimony and prepare the boss for his own grill.

Knock Out That Cold!

Get Rid of It Before It Becomes Dangerous!

A cold once underway is a cold hard to drive away! Let no cold endanger you. At the first chill or sneeze, take Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. It usually makes short work of a cold because it is expressly a cold remedy and because it gets at a cold from the inside. A cold, you know, is an internal infection and calls for internal treatment.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine means COMPLETE relief because it is COMPLETE treatment. It does all the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. That's the action you want and anything less is taking chances. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any drugstore, 50c and 60c. Ask for it by the full name and accept no substitute.—Adv.

ing, scheduled finally to take place this week.

Senator Couzens of Michigan objected when Prosecutor Pecora put Sinclair's personal attorney, George T. Sanford, on the stand immediately after Cutten.

In the back of Couzens' mind seemed to be an idea the committee should wait to hear from the "principal" for fear the lawyer's testimony would serve as a text book for Sinclair.

Pecora, wise to the ways of the court room, had in mind the fact Sinclair could also refresh his memory of the events of 1929 from Cutten's testimony. He wanted to get at Stanford before that able lawyer had a chance to review the day's proceedings.

JOHNSON

Take this one from General Johnson's barber: "Would you like an NRA haircut, General?"

"Certainly!"

"So I just trimmed it."

NOTES

In deliberately creating jobs not especially essential the Roosevelt Administration is taking a page—new—from the book of Hitler. . . . Instead of having signs, flags and lanterns to warn traffic that the street is being torn up the German Chancellor puts a couple of his Nazis on the job. . . . When numerous newspapers jumped the gun last Friday and headlined that day's conference between Mr. Roosevelt and Litvinoff as the "crucial" one they were sort of premature. . . . They had forgotten there must have been some reason why we didn't recognize Russia for 16 years. . . . One of these is a 100-page volume of Kerensky's claims which has to be gone over individually by the respective experts. . . . Don't look for speed in reaching agreements nor important effect on our problems when agreements are reached.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

CUBA

The latest Cuban outburst harks back to the comic opera pattern but has dark implications for your Uncle Sam.

Advertising the revolt as designed to restore Céspedes to power was smart stage management. That wasn't the object at all. But Cubans have been freely informed that Céspedes is the choice of the United States and that makes a meaningless uprising look like a sinister Yankee plot and strengthens San Martin's hand while whetting anti-American sentiment.

The episode also enables San Martin to yell more lustily for recognition. We said we would recognize him if he could maintain order. He has suppressed a "revolution," hasn't he? What more do you want?

Don't be surprised if we are accused of "moral intervention" at the Pan-American conference because we have refused recognition to date. An effort will be made to build it into a topic for heated Latin oratory. The Mexicans can be counted on to help.

That angle may bring into the picture Dr. Mario Garcia Kohly—scholar, author, diplomat.

Exiled to Mexico when the war for Cuban Independence began, he was successful as a lawyer, writer for leading Mexican newspapers, secretary of both Cuban revolutionary clubs in Mexico City. Afterwards he progressed brilliantly through Havana municipal and Cuban national affairs to become ambassador to Spain. His books brought him high decorations from the French and Spanish governments.

When the Céspedes smoke clears away Dr. Kohly—57, one daughter—is most likely to be disclosed as the one intellectually acceptable to all the chief Cuban factions.

LIQUIDATION

Banks with security affiliates to dissolve are being named by brokerage interests as the villains who have prevented any showing by the stock market of sustained progress.

Liquidation of affiliates has been handled very quietly and there has been no wholesale dumping. But naturally the banks have taken advantage of rises which served in a thin market to smack those rises on the head. Most of this liquidation has now been completed and traders are simmering with hope that the market will again begin to go places.

POOLS

Some of the pool boys are once more testing the speculative waters with a timid toe. Exchange members are laying off but the appetite for profit outside traders is beginning to overcome their fear of what Washington will do to them.

SECURITIES

Sentiment is growing in investment banking circles that Professor Felix Frankfurter has Machiavelli skinned forty ways.

Until recently most of them thought that the severity of the Securities Act (which he wrote) was simply due to misguided zeal. They felt their business was bad, they were crippled but hoped for a break when that fact became sufficiently apparent.

Now that they've studied it from all angles and chatted with Frankfurter's friend Landis on the Federal Trade Commission it begins to dawn that perhaps the law was made unworkable from their angle on purpose—designed to be a legal and carefully veiled death sentence for their business. This fits into the picture of government control of capital recently mentioned in this column.

SUPPORT

Inside New York sentiment toward NRA principles has undergone a significant shift in the past week or so. Recent visitors to Washington have been coming back as self-converted missionaries. The idea is penetrating that the codes must be made to function or something much worse from industry's viewpoint may befall.

Those who were advocating open rebellion a short time ago are strangely silent. Walter Trogley's remarks about a one-way street had their effect. The consensus of the opposition is that this is no time to get tough. Besides some of the industrialists whom conservative Wall Street has counted as allies have discovered that the code works much better than they expected.

CONCESSIONS

Meanwhile concessions to make the codes easier for business to live up to are being quietly extended all the time. One of the most significant was a local compliance board ruling that restaurants can count tips as part of waiters' wages. The principle cuts deep and temporarily settles an acrimonious argument. The local board is holding its breath until it knows whether its action is approved in Washington. Local insiders believe that labor will be persuaded not to make an issue of the matter for the present.

SMITH

Friends of Al Smith say that he will be in no hurry to step into the Tammany picture. The Curry-Parley civil war is far from settled and Al can accomplish more if he doesn't butt in too soon. You can't deny a plenty of inside forecasts that he will be in the limelight within a year. But the Curry wing of Tammany add that he will have to move to Massachusetts to do it.

STATE

The New York State Senate presents a political jigsaw puzzle worth watching. Tammany has a small nominal majority but the balance of power rests with three Senators who take orders from Flynn. If they should gang up with the Republicans at judicious moments they could make Messrs. Curry and McCooey extremely uncomfortable. Tammany is talking freely about throwing Parley out as State Chairman but there's many a slip.

MAKES CORRECTION ON BARBER HOURS

Barber shops may remain open any number of hours per week but shop owners and journeymen barbers are limited to 48 hours per week under provisions of the state barber's code, it was learned today from A. H. Bauer, secretary of the Orange County Barbers union.

Previous reports of the code said that shops could only operate 48 hours per week but this was in error, Bauer said. In one chair shops, operation may be continued to 52 hours a week. Shop owners are classified as barbers under the code and must conform to the 48 hour code. If a barber wishes to work nine hours on Saturday or day preceding a holiday, he must work only seven hours on some other day in the week, Bauer said.

No prices are set up in the code but prices must be high enough to provide cost plus not less than 15 per cent, he asserted.

Martin H. Shields, for many years a prominent real estate operator, and citrus grower in Orange county, passed away at his home, 1416 North Main street, Santa Ana, during the early morning hours of Sunday, November 12th. His death was not entirely unexpected, as he had been in failing health since 1928, and on October 3rd last, became seriously ill. A paralytic stroke followed, from which he failed to rally. During his last illness, his wife, children, and sister were constantly at his bedside.

Keenly alive to every issue affecting the good of the community and nation, Mr. Shields joined in forwarding all good activities up to the day of his death. NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

— News Behind The News —

WARNINGS

Back of President Roosevelt's creation of the Civil Works Administration were two smart pieces of politics.

The first was plain. Public Works Administration, under the relentless anti-pork barrel scrutiny of Harold Ickes, hadn't produced enough immediate jobs to keep the unemployed home fires burning this winter.

So it became necessary to make snowballing a pleasure the next three months and CWA (are there no end to these initials?) was the answer.

This introduced Harry Hopkins, aged 45, in still another role. In addition to being Federal Emergency Relief Administrator and all those other things he is now taking $400,000,000 of Public Works money into his own hands for the herculean task of putting 4,000,000 men into life-sustaining jobs by December 15.

That will make him the greatest single employer of labor in the world for the time being. Two million were scheduled back to work by tomorrow. You have followed his daily progress in the news columns.

Don't underestimate Hopkins' ability to attain the December 15 high-water mark. He has delivered the goods in the past without blowing a bugle.

FIXTURES

The secondary strategy of the Administration reaches deep. The money the government and the states, counties and municipalities will put up for this new card from the New Deal is to keep several million men employed for three months at from $30 to $60 a month. By the time this emergency payroll fund runs out, Congress will have been well in session.

Can you imagine very many of your public servants on Capitol Hill voting against an appropriation to keep these men on the payroll?

As for ultimate attainment of the 4,000,000 goal for December 15, there might possibly be just one small joker.

The Post Office Department is getting ready for the annual Christmas rush. Many thousands of temporary employment during the holidays. It is supposed these men and women may be added to the total. Inquiry at the Post Office as to how many were so hired last year elicited the surprising answer it "has been agreed NOT to make the 1932 figures public, but this year's will be available later."

A million employed for the better part of a month at about 50 cents an hour would be a most conservative estimate.

STAMPS

Commissioner Maxim Litvinoff was dining at the White House for the first time. The whole world awaited breathlessly the flash of American recognition of Russia.

Ranged down the table in the order named were President Roosevelt, Litvinoff, Secretary of the Interior Ickes and M. Uman-sky, chief of the Soviet Press Bureau.

And while the wires palpitated for first word of the momentous decision, these four gentlemen animatedly discussed their stamp collections.

SINCLAIR

It was just like old times up in the Senate Office Building one day last week.

The Senate Banking Committee, through an act of examination by Prosecutor Pecora, was hearing about that Wall Street deal in which the principals and their friends cleaned up over $12,000,000 without leaving out a dime.

And back of the reluctant witness Arthur Cullen, the big market manipulator—sat the lawyers of Harry F. Sinclair listening attentively to every word.

You may remember Sinclair as the old magnate who finally went to jail for thumbing his nose at the same sort of committee several years back.

Sinclair and Cullen were key figures in the profitable syndicate which dealt in Sinclair Consolidated Oil stock. The oil man was to have followed Cullen on the witness stand but unfortunately had been taken ill at Sulphur Springs.

In a way, Sinclair's illness was fortunate. It enabled his attorneys to digest Cullen's testimony and prepare the boss for his own grill.

Knock Out That COLD!

Get Rid of It Before It Becomes Dangerous!

A cold once underway is a cold hard to drive away! Let no cold endanger you. At the first chill or sneeze, take Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. It usually makes short work of a cold because it is expressly a cold remedy and because it gets at a cold from the inside. A cold, you know, is an internal infection and calls for internal treatment.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine means COMPLETE relief because it is COMPLETE treatment. It does all the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and stiffens the entire system. That's the action you want and anything less is taking chances. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any drugstore, 30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and accept no substitute.—Adv.

ing, scheduled finally to take place this week.

Senator Couzens of Michigan objected when Prosecutor Pecora put Sinclair's personal attorney, George T. Sanford, on the stand immediately after Cullen.

In the back of Couzens' mind seemed to be an idea the committee should hear from the "principal" for fear the lawyer's testimony would serve as a text book for Sinclair.

Pecora, wise to the ways of the court room, had in mind the fact Sinclair could also refresh his memory of the events of 1929 from Cullen's testimony. He wanted to get at Sinclair before that the lawyer had a chance to review the day's proceedings.

JOHNSON

NOTES

In deliberately creating jobs not especially for Roosevelt administration is taking a page—new—from the book of Herr Hitler. . . . Instead of having signs, flags and lanterns to warn traffic that the street is being torn up by the German Chancellor puts a couple of his Nazis on the job. . . .

When numerous newspapers jumped the gun last Friday and headlined that day's conference between Mr. Roosevelt and Litvinoff as the "crucial" one they were sort of premature. . . . They had forgotten there must have been some reason why we didn't recognize Russia for 16 years. . . . One of these is a 100-page volume of Kerevsky claims which has to be gone over individually by the State Department. Don't look for speed in reaching agreements nor important effect on our problems when agreements are reached.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

CUBA

The latest Cuban outburst harks back to the comic opera pattern but has dark implications for your Uncle Sam.

Advertising the revolt as designed to restore Céspedes to power was smart stage management. That wasn't the object at all. But Cubans have been freely informed that Céspedes is the choice of the United States. That makes a meaningless uprising look like a sinister Yankee plot and strengthens San Martin's hand while whetting anti-American sentiment.

The episode also enables San Martin to yell more lustily for recognition. We said we would recognize him if he could maintain order. He has suppressed a "revolution," hasn't he? What more do you want?

Don't be surprised if we are accused of "moral intervention" at the Pan-American conference because we have refused recognition to date. An effort will be made to build it into a topic for heated Latin oratory. The Mexicans can be counted on to help.

That angle may bring into the picture Dr. Mario Garcia Kohly—scholar, author, diplomat.

Exiled to Mexico when the war for Cuban Independence began, he was successful as a lawyer, writer for leading Mexican newspapers, secretary of both Cuban revolutionary clubs in Mexico City. As a result he progressed brilliantly through Havana municipal and Cuban national affairs to become Ambassador to Spain. His books brought him high decorations from the French and Spanish governments.

When the Céspedes smoke clears away Dr. Kohly—57, one daughter—is likely to be disclosed as the one intellectually acceptable to all the chief Cuban factions.

LIQUIDATION

Banks with security affiliates to dissolve are being named by brokerage interests as the villains who have prevented any showing by the stock market of sustained pep.

Liquidation of affiliates has been handled very quietly and there has been no wholesale dumping. But naturally the banks have taken advantage of rises which served in a thin market to smack those rises on the head. Most of this liquidation has now been completed and traders are simmering with hope that the market will again begin to go places.

POOLS

Some of the pool boys are once more testing the speculative waters with a timid toe. Exchange members are laying off but the appetite for profit outside traders is beginning to overcome their fear of what Washington will do to them.

SECURITIES

Sentiment is growing in investment banking circles that Professor Felix Frankfurter has Machiavelli skinned forty ways.

Until recently most of them thought that the severity of the Securities Act (which he wrote) was simply due to misguided zeal. They felt their business was badly crippled but hoped for a break when that fact became sufficiently apparent.

Now that they've studied it from all angles and chatted with Frankfurter's friend Landis on the Federal Trade Commission it is time to dawn that perhaps the law was made unwelcome from their angle on purpose—designed to be a legal and carefully veiled death sentence for their business. This fits into the picture of government control of capital recently mentioned in this column.

MAKES CORRECTION ON BARBER HOURS

Barber shops may remain open any number of hours per week but shop owners and journeymen barbers are limited to 48 hours per week under provisions of the state barber's code, it was learned today from A. H. Bauer, secretary of the Orange County Barbers union.

Previous reports of the code said that shops could only operate 48 hours per week but this was in error, Bauer said. In one chair shop, operation may be continued to 52 hours a week. Shop owners are classified as barbers under the code and must conform to the 48 hour code. No prices are set up in the code but prices must be high enough to provide cost plus not less than 15 per cent, he asserted.

INFORMATION ON SHOCKS GIVEN BY ENGINEER

"The danger of earthquakes is not in the quake itself, but is caused by human ignorance and stupidity" was the message brought to the audience at the First Christian church here last night by Oscar Stromborg, student of earth movements and consulting engineer of Los Angeles.

Aided by slides picturing damage of earthquakes, Stromborg showed how, by careful building and planning, damage during an earthquake could be brought to a minimum.

He said that the phenomena is the result of a continuing of the process of creation; that every year tons of soil are washed by rivers and rain into the sea, and that the raising of the land is nature's way of compensating the loss. He pointed out that all points of the Pacific coast are gradually rising, while the Atlantic coast line is slowly sinking.

A map from the Seismographic association showed that between 1919 and 1927 the inner Los Angeles harbor had raised over three inches.

Due to stress, Stromborg said, the disruptions will continue for years but, "by using care we can build almost earthquake-proof from almost any building material unless the structure is placed directly over a fault."

The extra cost, he said, would be infinitesimal, never exceeding 10 per cent of the original cost of the building.

Stromborg particularly stressed the danger of ornamental brick cornices and overhanging tiles. He

Distribution Of Pork Brings Inquiry

"When is the distribution of beef to begin?" That was the question asked today by Sam Hurwitz, prominent Santa Ana business man and civic leader in commenting on the distribution of 24,000 pounds of pork to needy families of the county.

"What do they mean by this pork?" he asked. Do people get hungry enough to eat it?"

Hurwitz said he was fearful that the federal authorities had overlooked the beef eaters, and suggested that possibly they thought none but pork eaters were in the unemployed army.

characterized the careless building and building inspection in an earthquake area as a sacrifice of human life and health, for the added profit of a few individuals. He suggested building codes be made which would forbid weak ornamentation that would be dangerous in even a slight disturbance.

At the close of his talk Stromborg answered questions asked by members of the audience.

Special Mass Celebrates Rome's Mass Marriages

The wedding march was the popular tune of the day when 5,000 men and women were the principals in mass weddings throughout Italy, following the appeal of Premier Mussolini for more marriages and more children to repopulate the nation. In Rome 700 couples were married at their various parishes, and the brides and grooms here are pictured as they all assembled in the church of Santa Maria degli Angeli for the celebration of a special mass.

INFORMATION ON SHOCKS GIVEN BY ENGINEER

"The danger of earthquakes is not in the quake itself, but is caused by human ignorance and stupidity," was the message brought to the audience at the First Christian church here last night by Oscar Stromborg, student of earth movements and consulting engineer of Los Angeles.

Aided by slides picturing damage of earthquakes, Stromborg showed how, by careful building and planning, damage during an earthquake could be brought to a minimum.

He said that the phenomena is the result of a continuing of the process of creation; that every year tons of soil are washed by rivers and rain into the sea, and that the raising of the land is nature's way of compensating the loss. He pointed out that all points of the Pacific coast are gradually rising, while the Atlantic coast line is slowly sinking.

A map from the Seismographic association showed that between 1919 and 1927 the inner Los Angeles harbor had raised over three inches.

Due to stress, Stromborg said, the disruptions will continue for years but, "by using care we can build almost earthquake-proof from almost any building material unless the structure is placed directly over a fault."

The extra cost, he said, would be infinitesimal, never exceeding 10 per cent of the original cost of the building.

Stromborg particularly stressed the danger of ornamental brick cornices and overhanging tiles. He characterized the careless building and building inspection in an earthquake area as a sacrifice of human life and health, for the added profit of a few individuals.

He suggested building codes be made which would forbid weak ornamentation that would be dangerous in even a slight disturbance.

At the close of his talk Stromborg answered questions asked by members of the audience.

Distribution Of Pork Brings Inquiry

"When is the distribution of beef to begin?" That was the question asked today by Sam Hurwitz, prominent Santa Ana business man and civic leader in commenting on the distribution of 24,000 pounds of pork to needy families of the county.

"What do they mean by this pork?" he asked. Do people get hungry enough to eat it?"

Hurwitz said he was fearful that the federal authorities had overlooked the beef eaters, and suggested that possibly they thought none but pork eaters were in the unemployed army.

Unusually Interesting Business Occupies Ebell Members

Santa Ana Ebell society's November program, a dance recital featuring Miss LeoNora Tuttle, was preceded yesterday afternoon by a business session of special interest, conducted by Mrs. Charles V. Davis, president.

Ranking perhaps as the most important was the decision reached in regard to the disposition of Day Nursery affairs, following the report presented by the Day Nursery chairman, Mrs. R. O. Winkler. This decision was that the Nursery be placed under direct supervision of the present matron, Mrs. Ethel Flockton, who will make her home at the address, 610 Garfield street.

The formation of a contract bridge section under the leadership of Mrs. Sara Haddon was announced, and Tuesdays with morning, afternoon and evening sessions, Mrs. Maxwell Burke, curator, will receive applications for membership.

It was the privilege of Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank to accept on behalf of the house committee, the generous gift of Girls' Ebells society, the set of 18 raffia-wrapped coffee bottles, which were created so much admiring comment at the recent Thanksgiving dinner of the finance committee. The girls had fashioned the raffia and cork wrappings of the heat-proof bottles, and the gift was one of the most thoughtful ones ever made the general society. Equal enthusiasm was expressed for the people, many plans of these young people.

They will install a large tree in the peacock room of the clubhouse well in advance of Christmas, and Ebell members are asked to contribute gifts of any nature to be wrapped and tied in festive colors, and plainly marked as contents so their distribution may be made without unhelping in order to judge of suitability.

Local Artist Exhibits Paintings, Prints At Alma Mater

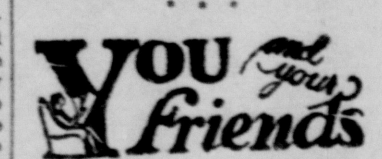

On exhibit in the art gallery of her alma mater, University of California at Los Angeles, are various pictures in pastels and watercolor and a collection of clever block prints, the work of Jean Goodwin, gifted young Santa Ana artist, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Goodwin, 606 East Santa Clara avenue.

Miss Goodwin, who is teaching this year at Citrus Union High school between Glendora and Azusa on the Foothill Boulevard, completed her four year art course at U. C. L. A. in 1932. Prior to that she had attended Chicago Art Institute. She has attracted the attention of critics by her originality and the exquisite and imaginative quality of her work. The modernistic trend shown by so many of the young Californian painters, has exerted its influence, and her pictures both in subject and in development, have exemplified the finer points of modernism.

Arthur Miller, well known Los Angeles critic, has called attention to the exhibit at the University, and William Colby has gone into detail on it. The latter cited the difficulty of pointing out any one painting as more outstanding than the others, but declared that he might perhaps select "Enchanted Island."

At the completion of the exhibit at the University Art gallery, the pictures will be sent to San Diego where Miss Goodwin will be honored by having a one-man exhibit in the Art museum in Balboa Park.

Miss Goodwin's talents are represented in the Santa Ana Junior College Art press publication, "Chingchinchin," for which she did the illustrations.

Business Women Bring Attendance Banner From Conference

Anticipations of next Monday night's dinner program for Business and Professional Women's club were colored today by recollections of the pleasant features of the district meeting which a dozen members enjoyed during a week end trip to Brawley.

Mesdames Marie Fowler, president; Hazel Northcross, Rose Walker, Laura McNaught, Adelaide Cochran, the Misses Harriett Whidden, Lula Ott, Alma Karlsson, Damaris Beeman, Lena Thomas, Winifred Iman and Mary Hillyard formed the group motorizing to Brawley for the Saturday afternoon and evening sessions in Planners' hotel. Theirs formed the largest group attending from a distance, so they had the pleasure of bringing home the attendance banner.

The formal program included a round table directed by Mrs. Irene Witmer, educational chairman, and the address of the evening by Dr. Tempe V. Allison, Ph.D., of San Bernardino Valley Junior college.

Details of the conference will be given at next Monday night's meeting of the local B.P.W. club in Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe. An unusual program has been planned by Miss Artie Cleveland, chairman, and her November committee, the Misses Vanche Plumb, Mary Hillyard and Dorothy Decker.

This will present Miss Clara Kate Owens in a review of a late play by Eugene O'Neill, Miss Owens gave this review before Santa Ana Community Players at their November meeting in The Buns, and was acclaimed as having given the finest review in the history of the association.

Little Maid's Birthday Occasions Pleasant Afternoon Party

A birthday anniversary in the Thanksgiving month gave ample reason for the gay orange and green decorations which brightened the twelfth birthday party for little Miss Bettylu Perryman, given last week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Perryman, 818 South Sycamore street.

Nine of Miss Bettylu's school friends were bidden to the affair, whose pleasant features included games in the garden as a preliminary to the refreshment hour. When invited to the refreshment hour, the children were delighted to see a table arranged to represent a colonial Thanksgiving scene, with a log cabin, Indians and turkeys to lend realism. Thanksgiving favors were at the places, and green and orange candles lighted the birthday cake.

Covers were placed for Miss Bettylu, the birthday hostess, and the Misses Patricia Flaherty, Theodora Papana, Margaret Showalter, Marguerite Alvord, Gay Thwaiter, Jean Thwaiter, Barbara Thwaiter, Glenary Wells and Janet Bates. Bettylu's younger brother, Bob, assisted Mrs. Perryman in entertaining the guests.

A final pleasure for the young hostess was that of opening the many fascinating packages brought by her friends in honor of her anniversary.

EAT AND GROW SLIM
Luncheon
Salad plate: 1/4 head of lettuce; liverwurst, 1 inch thick slice, diced; 3 tbsps. mineral oil French dressing;

1/2 disk ry-krisp with 1 tsp. butter;
Clear tea with lemon and saccharine.

Calory total...255.
This is a salad the family will enjoy. The meal for the family would not be welcomed if ry-krisp were served for bread, but muffins, hot buttered toast, or deviled egg sandwiches would. For dessert serve canned fruit and cookies or graham crackers spread with cream cheese and made into sandwiches.

Do you make ice cream very often? If so, it will pay you to make up a quantity of the base, it keeps perfectly in the refrigerator. For a small family a quart of the base will make ice cream four times. Here are the ingredients:

1 pint coffee cream
1 pint rich milk
6 tbsps. flour mixed with 1 cup water to make a smooth paste

Pinch of salt
3 cups sugar
Heat milk and cream in a double boiler, when it reaches the boiling point thicken with the flour and water, first adding sugar. After the mixture thickens, cook 20 minutes. To this base add anything you wish in flavors; try some of these.

Chocolate: 1 1/2 cups custard base, 2 stiffly whipped eggs whites, 1 cup whipping cream (stiff) and 1/2 cup chocolate syrup added last with 1 tsp. vanilla.

Almond-Toffee: Same amount of base, egg whites and cream; 1/4 pound toffee, well crushed, and 1/2 cup sliced almonds, vanilla and almond extracts to taste.

Maple-Nut: Same ingredients for base; 1/2 cup chopped walnuts, 1/2 tsp. maple extract, 1/3 cup strong cold coffee.

Always whip beaten egg whites into base first; this prevents that coarse crystallization, so objectionable.

Past Presidents Plan Birthday Party for Charter Member

When Past Presidents' association of Santa Ana Rounds tent D. V. met late last week with Miss Bertha Belt in Garden Grove, half of the membership enjoyed the hospitality of the others, who joined with Miss Belt in hostess duties.

A delicious luncheon menu was served by Miss Belt, Mesdames May Sutton, Edith Moore, May Thomas, Carrie Smith, Margaret Robertson, Floss LaBounty and Nellie Parker, at tables charming in yellow and green. Yellow corsage sprays soared from green glass bowls, flanked by green candlesticks bearing candles just the shade of the cosmos. Even the nut cups stressed the color scheme, but best of all was the dessert course.

For when a big cake, sparkling with yellow candles, was produced, each member was asked to light the tiny candle at her place with a birthday wish for Mrs. Lydia Scammon of Laguna Beach, a charter member of the association.

Lime ice served with the cake, continued the color scheme.

Mrs. Scammon found that there were other features honoring her natal day, for at the close of luncheon she was presented with a basket of daintily wrapped birthday gifts. The remainder of the afternoon was given over to chatting, quilting and similar diversions.

In addition to the hostess group and the honor guest, Mrs. Scammon, those present were Mesdames Louane Leech, Eva Bell, Elizabeth Adams, Esther Gardner, Lena Hewitt and Miss Minnie Cowan, past presidents; Mrs. Rowena Grout, present Tent president, and Miss Belt's two sisters, Mrs. Cora Graham and Miss Emma Belt.

Dance Artist Accorded Highest Praise by Ebells Women

Exemplifying a phase of dancing in which grace of posture and fluidity of line were beautifully combined with dramatic interpretation, LeoNora Tuttle, talented young California dancer, last yesterday won acclaim at the November program session of Santa Ana Ebells society, sharing the approbation of the audience with her accompanist, Alice Ripley, a concert pianist of fine ability.

Introduced immediately after the business session by Mrs. Charles V. Davis, Ebells president, Miss Tuttle, a pupil of Ruth St. Denis; the Chalfi School, New York City; Trinidad, Conn., Los Angeles, and other noted teachers and schools, opened her program with three character dances.

These were "Hungarian Rhapsody" to the Brahms composition; "Dutch Shoes" and "Serenade" (Mowry). Each was elaborately costumed, varying from the brilliant shades of the Hungarian gypsy raiment to the lace-trimmed petticoats, wooden shoes and quaint headresses of the Dutch number. In the latter, Miss Tuttle wore a mask, adding a quaintly outre charm to the dance, which was one of curiously awkward grace, contradictory though such a term may sound.

Probably one of the most arresting of her numbers was that danced to a Chopin Prelude, in which the stately rhythmic complemented by flowing draperies of cloth of gold. In this interpretation, the dancer expressed humanity's urge to rise above environment and a subsequent return to the levels from which it started.

"Blue Moment" (Cyril Scott) was a graceful thing, and MacDowell's "To a Water Lily" showed perhaps the most fluidity of motion, and the melting from posture to posture which characterized the formal school of dancing. For in many of her numbers, Miss Tuttle achieved her purpose by a sharp, staccato effect, eminently suited to what she meant to convey. Gowned in white chiffon velvet in moynage effect, she portrayed "White Peacock" (Griffes) one of the most delightful features of the afternoon.

bodily pride, grace and dignity, yet with a hint of the raucous voice that spoils the peacock's beauty. For her concluding number she chose a burlesque of American jazz, danced to "Sonatine Transatlantique" by Tansman, with inimitable impudence and sparkle. This number was repeated, providing her only encore in response to the enjoyment of the audience.

Miss Ripley was a delightful accompanist, weaving her melodies for the dancer to interpret, and her solo work was no less pleasing. For her first group she played the Schumann-Liszt "Dedication" and "Romance" by Schumann. Her delicate and poetic touch was again apparent in her second and final group, "Caprice" by Cyril Scott, and "Triantameron" by Godowsky, and she was recalled by a pleased audience but responded only with bows.

Unusually Interesting Business Occupies Ebell Members

Santa Ana Ebell society's November program, a dance recital featuring Miss LeoNora Tuttle, was preceded yesterday afternoon by a business session of special interest, conducted by Mrs. Charles V. Davis, president.

Ranking perhaps as the most important was the decision reached in regard to the disposition of Day Nursery affairs, following the report presented by the Day Nursery chairman, Mrs. R. O. Winckler. This decision was that the nursery be placed for the present on a 24-hour basis under the direct supervision of the present matron, Mrs. Ethel Pickett, who will make her home at the address, 610 Garfield street.

The formation of a contract bridge section under the leadership of Mrs. Sara Haddon was announced, and Tuesdays will be reserved for this feature, with morning, afternoon and evening sessions. Mrs. Maxwell Burke, curator, will receive applications for membership.

It was the privilege of Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank to accept on behalf of the house committee, the generous gift of Girls Ebell society, the set of 13 radio-wrapped coffee bottles, which was one of the most thoughtful ones ever made the general society. The enthusiasm was expressed for the Christmas plans of these young people. They will install a large tree in the peacock room of the clubhouse well in advance of Christmas, and Ebell members are asked to contribute gifts of any nature to be distributed among needy families of the city. Gifts are to be wrapped and placed in festive colors, and plainly marked as to contents so their distribution may be made without unwrapping in order to judge of suitability.

Local Artist Exhibits Paintings, Prints At Alma Mater

On exhibit in the art gallery of California at Los Angeles, are various pictures in pastels and watercolor and a collection of clever block prints, the work of Jean Goodwin, gifted young Santa Ana artist, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Goodwin, 606 East Santa Clara avenue.

Miss Goodwin, who is teaching this year at Citrus Union High school, between Glendora and Arroyo on the Foothill Boulevard, completed her four year art course at U. C. L. A. in 1932. Prior to that she had attended Chicago Art Institute. She has attracted the attention of critics by her originality and the exquisite and imaginative quality of her work. The modernistic trend shown by so many of the young Californian painters, has exerted its influence, and her pictures both in subject and in development, have exemplified the finer points of modernism.

Arthur Miller, well known Los Angeles critic, has called attention to the exhibit at the University, and William Colby has gone into detail on it. The latter cited the difficulty of pointing out any one painting as more outstanding than the others, but declared that he might perhaps select "Enchanted Island."

At the completion of the exhibit at the University Art gallery, the pictures will be sent to San Diego where Miss Goodwin will be honored by having a one-man exhibit in the Art museum in Balboa Park.

Miss Goodwin's talents are represented in the Santa Ana Junior College Art press publication, "Chingchintch," for which she did the illustrations.

Mr. Robert Lancaster and small son, Robert Jr., who have been staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Johnson, 1512 Martha Lane, since Mr. Lancaster left for the Navy, San Francisco, left Saturday night to rejoin him and establish their home in northern California.

Frank E. Taylor accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Harry Womersley, arrived Sunday by automobile from their home in Redwood City, to be with their father, Martin W. Taylor, 320 Riverside avenue, who is seriously ill.

Miss Margery Taylor has returned from a two weeks visit in San Francisco and in Berkeley where she was the guest of Miss Doris Turner of Monrovia, her sorority sister in Alpha Sorority at Occidental college.

Mr. Howard Barrows, 1002 Haladay street, is in St. Joseph's hospital recuperating from a major operation which she underwent yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ulrich and sons and daughters, Kenneth and Wesley and the Misses Florence and Harriet Ulrich, Lemon Heights, were dinner guests last night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones in Southgate. Miss Florence Ulrich remained in Southgate to spend a week as a guest of Mrs. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. MacMullen, 2418 Heliotrope drive, have returned home from a week end trip to Palm Springs.

Miss Camille Ferry of Silver Acres spent the week end with her aunt, Miss Irene Burke of Brayton avenue, Long Beach. Miss Burke entertained with a dancing party honoring her niece.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Watkins had as week end guests in their home, White Gables, 1502 North Ross street, Mrs. Watkins' nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Riseland of Los Angeles. Mr. Riseland has returned to Los Angeles, but Mrs. Riseland is remaining for a longer visit. The party was augmented for Sunday dinner by the arrival from Venice of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Walker, the latter also a niece of the hostess, and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Thoms. Mr. Walker and Mrs. Thoms were "buddies" in France during the World war.

Business Women Bring Attendance Banner From Conference

Anticipations of next Monday night's dinner program for Business and Professional Women's club were colored today by recollections of the pleasant features of the district meeting which a dozen members enjoyed during a week end trip to Brawley.

Mesdames Marie Fowler, president; Hazel Northcross, Rose Walker, Laura McNaught, Adelaide Cochran, the Misses Harriett Whidden, Lula Ott, Alma Karlsson, Damaris Beaman, Lena Thomas, Winifred Iman and Mary Hillyard formed the group motorizing to Brawley for the Saturday afternoon and evening sessions in Planters' hotel. Theirs formed the largest group attending from a distance, so they had the pleasure of bringing home the attendance banner.

The formal program included a round table directed by Mrs. Irene Witmer, educational chairman, and the address of the evening by Dr. Tempe V. Allison, Ph.D., of San Bernardino Valley Junior college.

Details of the conference will be given at next Monday night's meeting of the local B.P.W. club in Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe. An unusual program has been planned by Miss Artie Cleaveland, chairman, and her November committee, the Misses Vanche Plumb, Mary Hillyard and Dorothy Decker.

This will present Miss Clara Kate Owens in a review of a late play by Eugene O'Neill. Miss Owens gave this review before Santa Ana Community Players at their November meeting in The Barn, and was acclaimed as having given the finest review in the history of the association.

At the latest meeting of B.P.W., members had the privilege of hearing Frank A. Henderson, city superintendent of schools, in an informative talk on the tax dollar's apportionment, especially in reference to schools. He told of the necessary cuts in school budgets, and explained the difficulties resulting from the fact that depreciation in property values resulted in a correspondingly higher level of tax rates.

THE TINYMIES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

This time 'twas Goldy who cried out. "Gee, why flash lightning all about? Nobody likes to see it. I'm glad I'm not on the earth."

"I'll bet that everyone down there is being given quite a scare, and yet you stand there flashing it for all that you are worth."

"Oh, some folks like to see it, miss. They wouldn't miss a sight like this," the Thunder Man said.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

When a girl picks a cravat for her beau it isn't long before she makes new family ties.

"but I'll stop. Your plea is not in vain."

He put his lightning box away and then the Tinies heard him say, "Well, we've had thunder! Lightning, too. So, now, let's have some rain."

"My goodness," Scouty said, "do you control all of the rainfall, too?"

"Of course," replied the gruff old man. "You're on a rain cloud, now."

"I am the man who makes the showers that quench the thirst of tree and flowers. I s'pose you wonder how it's done. Well, come, I'll show you how."

He led them to a great big vat and smilingly said, "Look at that. A pipe line from the rain cloud leads directly into there."

"I let the tank fill to the top and never spill a single drop. Then I am set to spray rain water out into the air."

"Oh, gee, I see how it is done," cried Duncy. "It should be real fun to hold the hose that does the spraying. That's what I will do."

"I'll help you," shouted Coppy. "Say, we'll have a real rainfall today!" The man cried, "Fine! I'll fill the tank, and then it's up to you."

And so they held the nozzle tight and shortly saw a pretty sight. The water started flowing. Goldy cried, "See how it pours!"

"Once more I'm glad I'm way up here. On earth I'd get all wet. I fear. I hope that little folks have sense enough to run indoors."

REAL AND IMAGINARY MENACES TO SAFETY

The Register carried a letter last night from a parent who commented on the findings of the unsafe condition of some of our school buildings. The parent is absolutely right in raising this question. If there is a real and actual, and not an imaginary, danger in our school buildings the children should not be permitted to enter them another day. It should be stopped right now.

If there is an imaginary or relative danger, which is produced because of an extraordinary and extreme code, that has been recently provided for public buildings and there is not danger, except in some severe cataclysm the force of which has not yet been known to strike our Southland, the public should know that.

We were in a group some months ago, just after the earthquake, in which were several able architects, and they were emphasizing that we should have a building code, stringent and severe, for the building in the future. In fact, for a period of time, there were those who had been endeavoring to get such a code enacted.

In the light of this code, and in the light of a conceivable quake, the buildings may not be up to the ideal. But we should remember that there is no building that is likely to be built that the imagination of man could not conceive a vibration of the earth which would destroy it.

Frequently those whose business it is to draw codes and pass upon buildings, are the same group who design repairs and new buildings, and greatly profit by tearing down the old and erecting the new. We recall becoming very greatly alarmed over a report of a state official that a certain school building was "unsafe." We gave it its proper place in the news columns, commented on it editorially and the parents immediately took their children out of the building. Then we learned, through members of the school board, that they had provided for this report to condemn this particular building, in order to do away with the school district entirely, because they wanted to concentrate all of the schools in the township into the center of the township, and this particular district had "held out." This method was being used to force them in line. It accomplished its purpose.

If the high school auditorium is unsafe, certainly it should not be occupied. If this "unsafe" suggestion means simply that a certain severity of quake, described in engineering terms, if had, would be sufficient to raze the building, then let us inquire as to whether we have ever had such a quake and what it means in terms of reason and sense.

Certainly if it has its commonly accepted meaning of being "dangerous and unsafe," when ordinarily reasonable persons take the customary precaution in protecting themselves and their children, certainly public officials should not permit the people or their children to use the buildings at all. The fact that their use is continued would certainly suggest that those in authority do not seriously entertain the thought that the buildings are "unsafe" or "dangerous" in the sense that the public understands that term.

PACIFIC AREA DEVELOPMENT DE-SERVES PRIOR CONSIDERATION

Secretary Ickes declares that the Pacific Coast states have had more than their share of public funds and that they must not expect to get more until other sections are taken care of.

While nearly every Western enterprise is quite confident that he didn't mean the particular one in which the group is interested, yet we are afraid that the difficulties will be greater when enterprises out in the West here are presented for financing.

We would call Secretary Ickes' attention, however, to several things. One is that the West and particularly California, has a great deal larger number of people who have been here a very brief period of time in proportion to population, than any other state in the Union. We have a greater number of transients. We have a greater number of needy. We have a greater number of all of those classes whose income is small and fixed, or who have no income, than almost any other state in the Union. This would suggest that it is perfectly right and proper that the Federal government should be more liberal with California.

Then, again, we would emphasize that California and the West have more great public enterprises that are possible and that need public assistance than any other section. The sections where a water conservation and flood control program must be carried on in a very large way are in these Southwestern states where, because of the topography of the land and the climatic conditions, there is danger of tremendous floods some months in the year, while in other months there is certain to be drought.

This, coupled with the fertility of the soil of this section, presents to the nation and its people both an opportunity and a challenge. The opportunity is to produce and live under the cheapest, as well as the happiest, conditions and the challenge is to protect the people and the land from flood disasters, and to impound the bountiful supply in the few months, to be used during that period of time when the skies are cloudless.

Again, our Atlantic seaboard is already dotted with many harbors, most of them natural, some of them improved, but they have been developing all through the years with our trade mainly with Europe. It has only been in the brief space of the last two or three decades that there has been an effort put forth to develop certain harbors here on the western coast. The opportunities which will be afforded our Western coast with trade in the Pacific area demand that this work be carried on with determination and foresight.

The awakening of India and of China, and the position that Japan is assuming, insure that most of the development in the world's trade and manufacturing will be around the Pacific. Our Eastern friends, and particularly the statesmen at Washington, must have that view. We can make this the occasion of presenting the facts and figures regarding this development, just as in the early days before the Webster-Ashburton treaty. With all of the knowledge that they have at Washington now, they may need to have their attention called to the facts and conditions of what really is out beyond the Rockies and the Coast ranges. The money which is expended along the Western coast will be found to be in years to come, the best investment that the government has made during this period of stress.

GEN. JOHNSON ANSWERS CRITICS OF NRA

At Louisville, Kentucky, yesterday, General Johnson, administrator of the National Industrial Recovery Act, answered many objections to the NRA, and, in our judgment, very justifiably defended the work of the organization to date. He admitted that there have been mistakes and there are weaknesses, but said they are strengthening them and are not making the same mistakes twice after they learn of them.

He said that the "New Deal" is mainly concerned with giving the "little fellows" a chance to live and grow and said that the "big fellows" are making objections to the NRA. He said, referring to this, that you hear somebody say: "We do not need the NRA or would have gotten just as far out of the depression without it, or that it should be abandoned." He then suggested it would be a good thing to ask what that person was saying in 1928 or 1929 or even on March 4, 1933. Then, to quote him:

On that date, business was ship-wrecked and was yelling for a raft, and when the government gave them the raft the sole idea of these few individuals is to kick everybody else off while they remain in safety. . . . Unemployment had to be gotten rid of as far as possible; the farmer had to be given a chance to get back to a place where he could buy something. And that is what the government agencies entrusted with the task have been trying to bring about.

And strangely enough, Mr. Johnson says that some people even argue against the NRA from the angle that it is in the interest of the "big fellows" and not of the "little fellows." But he says: "Let me tell you that if the NRA, or some similar system had not supplanted the dog-eat-dog theory, there would have been danger of destruction of the smaller business units. That process was going on hideously until the government stepped in."

Connecting up the argument of the influential interests, he said: "In the past month there has been a great deal of highly vocal criticism in some important newspapers. It is possible that there is some connection between the POWERFUL grumbling and the newspaper criticism."

The NRA cannot change everything overnight. We are going to have our difficulties to work out. But certainly some of these conditions laid down give us greater hope of working it out and as long as the weaknesses will be corrected, we can go forward with assurance.

Friendly Fevers

San Francisco Chronicle

The cure by artificial fever of mental cases formerly considered hopeless, reported by the Illinois Psychopathic Hospital, bears out experiments along the same line that are changing medical theories concerning high temperature. Instead of fever being the killing agent, as has been supposed, it may be nature's effort to cure by burning out the malignant cause.

Accident discovered that paresis victims who became infected with malaria seemed to improve. Inoculations were made with successful results. It was supposed that something in the nature of malaria counteracted the effects of paresis. Further experiment indicated that it was not the malaria germ but the fever it caused that burned up the paresis taint.

The principle has been used with some success in cases of scarlet fever given up as hopeless, by raising the temperature for a brief time far above the danger line. In some cases recovery has been reported. The difficulty in this curative method is to determine the degree and time that will kill the disease without killing the patient also.

Persons in airplanes fly 250 miles an hour, and a ship which makes 250 miles a day is slow, but it is still true that leg over leg the dog gets to Dover. It is many weeks since we began reading Sir Hubert Wyatt's brilliant little vignettes of the good ship Wyatt Earp rolling down from Norway to New Zealand to pick up Lincoln Ellsworth, and then on for the South Pole! It seemed a very long way when the Wyatt Earp, with her modest knotage, first reported heavy weather in the Bay of Biscay. Since then she has rolled off the Guinea coast and pitched around the Cape of Good Hope and been tossed about in the Indian Ocean until the other day she reported a lighthouse in South Tasmania. She is almost there.

Admiral Byrd's ship has passed through the Panama Canal and is headed for Little America, 5,000 miles away. It is a great distance, and the Jacob Ruppert is no demon of the seas, but she expects to get there by Nov. 25. After all two and a half weeks is not a great deal. It is about the time it takes us to impanel a jury in a really big criminal case.

A DULL WORLD NOW

No more men fear
The buccaneer
Who, in the days of old,
From sea to sea
Roved wide and free
Collecting minted gold.
No pirates rove
From coast to coast,
In quest of shining freight;
The sailor's life
If void of strife;
Young Bill was born too late.

Upon the sea
No chance has he
To spy a raking sail—
To climb aboard
With gleaming sword
Amid a howling gale—
To slay the crew
And skipper too,
And make them walk the plank.
All gold today
Is stowed away
Inside a steel-sheathed bank.

No glorious life
Of stirring strife
Inspires a growing lad,
As, in the times
Of stirring crimes,
It did his daring dad.
The deeds that Kidd
So boldly did
May be performed no more,
And Bill, alas,
His life must pass
In dull pursuits ashore.

RECOVERY AND ROUGH SEAS

The recovery program is running into increasingly rough seas. The time calls for the straightest of straight thinking on the part of the political opposition, the press and the people if we are not now to go beyond corrective criticism into a very real sabotaging of recovery.

Since the recovery program was dubbed by its sponsors a war on depression, they must not be surprised that it is suffering the same flow and ebb of enthusiasm and loyalty that mark a military war.

Our hats were in the air as the first shock troops went into action against the depression last March. The air was electric with confidence that a turn in affairs was imminent. The contagious confidence led some of the New Dealers to set the date of victory too near. Some sectors on the enemy front have proved more difficult of capture than they seemed a few months ago. Even the recovery measures themselves have produced some economic casualties. And a casualty list sobe. . . and frightens the most patriotic defender. . . . In opinion have appeared in the general staff behind the recovery program. Critics are coming out from under cover. As the prospect of Congressional elections comes nearer, the political opposition sniffs the air of battle. Business increasingly resents the regimentation involved in the war on depression.

I find myself in disagreement with a good many detailed planks in the present recovery platform. But there is nothing but disaster ahead if we permit a controlling mood of defeatism to settle over us. If there are weak spots in the recovery program of the Roosevelt regime, criticism of them must take the form of more workable alternatives, not a merely negative damning and a retreat to the uncontrolled economic situation the recovery program seeks to meet.

The road back is not the way out!

We need the spirit of political coalition if we cannot have the fact of coalition. For the problem before us can be met only by men who think first of national interests and second of party interests. We cannot afford to have business playing a business game only and labor playing a labor game only. The national game is the only game to be played now. Elsewhere it has taken dictatorships to impose a national interest on the varied group interests of the nation. We can escape the dangerous plunge into dictatorship if the party in power will avoid dogmatism and keep willing to shift and change its program in the light of experience, if the political opposition will play the part of corrective critic rather than the part of the mere conniver for power, and if business leadership and labor leadership will collaborate instead of fight.

We cannot give up the war on depression. We must unite in the progressive correction of its strategy.

CAN'T LEARN TO READ

"I've done my best, Mrs. Struthers, but I can't teach him to read. I've tried every method known and he doesn't read a single word. Maybe if he had glasses?"

"I'll take him to the eye man right away. He must learn to read. I don't understand it. All our children have gone through school without any trouble and here he is—"

"He doesn't give us any trouble. Don't misunderstand me. He can't learn to read. I know he would if he could. For some reason he can't."

So the little chap got glasses and went back to school in high feather. Now he would learn to read. But things were no better. He repeated the words after the teacher but he didn't read. Not one word.

"Send home his reader and the word cards, please, and we'll work with him every night." So the drilling began. In the afternoon Sister who was a senior in High took him. In the evening mother took him until her patience wore thin. Then father took his turn. Sometimes Brother who was graduated from college took a hand. The whole family were loyal to their charge and no hour passed without someone's drilling the little chap. And still he didn't read.

"I don't see how we can promote him any more. He must read if he is to learn any more," said the principal. So he was left back. And he stayed back until he grew too big for the benches. And still he didn't read.

"Something must be done," said mother. "He can't stay there forever." This time he was taken to a physician in a distant city. He looked grave when he heard the story. "We will examine him carefully. I'd like to have him for a week or ten days. Will you stay with us, son, and let us try to find out why you can't read?"

"Yes, I will. I want to read but I can't."

By and by the doctor told the child's mother that it was not possible for him to read because he was afflicted with word blindness. The nerve cells that had to do with interpreting the signs that the eye reported faithfully enough, were not functioning. The child saw the signs, the marks that are letters, but he could not do anything with them after seeing them. He just saw them and nothing happened after that so he could not learn to read.

"Read to him. Stop drilling him. Tell him he needn't worry about learning to read any more. It sometimes happens that after a time the cells come to life and go to work. It may happen to this lad and it may not. We don't know. But stop drilling him and let him be happy as he is. Teach him to do as many things as he can apart from this reading of books. Encourage him a lot. Build up his health. And keep hoping without nagging him."

Word blindness is not a disease. It is a condition. Drilling won't help it. Glasses won't help it. Only the miracle of growth ever helps it and sometimes that miracle is not performed. Try to find some compensation for the afflicted child and go on from there.

REAL AND IMAGINARY MENACES TO SAFETY

The Register carried a letter last night from a parent who commented on the findings of the unsafe condition of some of our school buildings. The parent is absolutely right in raising this question. If there is a real and actual, and not an imaginary, danger in our school buildings the children should not be permitted to enter them another day. It should be stopped right now.

If there is an imaginary or relative danger, which is produced because of an extraordinary and extreme code, that has been recently provided for public buildings and there is no danger, except in some severe cataclysm the force of which has not yet been known to strike our Southland, the public should know that.

We were in a group some months ago, just after the earthquake, in which were several able architects, and they were emphasizing then that we should have a building code, stringent and severe, for the building in the future. In fact, for a period of time, there were those who had been endeavoring to get such a code enacted.

In the light of this code, and in the light of a conceivable quake, the buildings may not be up to the ideal. But we should remember that there is no building that is likely to be built that the imagination of man could not conceive a vibration of the earth which would destroy it.

Frequently those whose business it is to draw codes and pass upon buildings, are the same group who design repairs and new buildings, and greatly profit by tearing down the old and erecting the new. We recall becoming very greatly alarmed over a report of a state official that a certain school building was "unsafe." We gave it its proper place in the news columns, commented on it editorially and the parents immediately took their children out of the building. Then we learned, through members of the school board, that they had provided for this report to condemn this particular building, in order to do away with the school district entirely, because they wanted to concentrate all of the schools in the township into the center of the township, and this particular district had "held out." This method was being used to force them in line. It accomplished its purpose.

If the high school auditorium is unsafe, certainly it should not be occupied. If this "unsafe" suggestion means simply that a certain severity of quake, described in engineering terms, if had, would be sufficient to raze the building, then let us inquire as to whether we have ever had such a quake and what it means in terms of reason and sense.

Certainly if it has its commonly accepted meaning of being "dangerous and unsafe," when ordinarily reasonable persons take the customary precaution in protecting themselves and their children, certainly public officials should not permit the people or their children to use the buildings at all. The fact that their use is continued would certainly suggest that those in authority do not seriously entertain the thought that the buildings are "unsafe" or "dangerous" in the sense that the public understands that term.

PACIFIC AREA DEVELOPMENT DESERVES PRIOR CONSIDERATION

Secretary Ickes declares that the Pacific Coast states have had more than their share of public funds and that they must not expect to get more until other sections are taken care of.

While nearly every Western enterprise is quite confident that he didn't mean the particular one in which the group is interested, yet we are afraid that the difficulties will be greater when enterprises out in the West here are presented for financing.

We would call Secretary Ickes' attention, however, to several things. One is that the West and particularly California, has a great deal larger number of people who have been here a very brief period of time in proportion to population, than any other state in the Union. We have a greater number of transients. We have a greater number of needy. We have a greater number of all of those classes whose income is small and fixed, or who have no income, than almost any other state in the Union. This would suggest that it is perfectly right and proper that the Federal government should be more liberal with California.

Then, again, we would emphasize that California and the West have more great public enterprises that are possible and that need public assistance than any other section. The sections where a water conservation and flood control program must be carried on in a very large way are in these Southwestern states where, because of the topography of the land and the climatic conditions, there is danger of tremendous floods some months in the year, while in other months there is certain to be drought.

This, coupled with the fertility of the soil of this section, presents to the nation and its people both an opportunity and a challenge. The opportunity is to produce and live under the cheapest, as well as the happiest, conditions and the challenge is to protect the people and the land from flood disasters, and to impound the bountiful supply in the few months, to be used during that period of time when the skies are doubtful.

Again, our Atlantic seaboard is already dotted with many harbors, most of them natural, some of them improved, but they have been developing all through the years with our trade mainly with Europe. It has only been in the brief space of the last two or three decades that there has been an effort put forth to develop certain harbors here on the western coast. The opportunities which will be afforded our Western coast with trade in the Pacific area demand that this work be carried on with determination and foresight.

The awakening of India and of China, and the position that Japan is assuming, insure that most of the development in the world's trade and manufacturing will be around the Pacific. Our Eastern friends, and particularly the statesmen at Washington, must have that view. We can make this the occasion of presenting the facts and figures regarding this development, just as in the early days before the Webster-Ashburton treaty. With all of the knowledge that they have at Washington now, they may need to have their attention called to the facts and conditions of what really is out beyond the Rockies and the Coast ranges. The money which is expended along the Western coast will be found to be in years to come, the best investment that the government has made during this period of stress.

I'd like to have him for a week or ten days. Will you stay with us, son, and let us try to find out why you can't read?"

"Yes, I will. I want to read but I can't."

By and by the doctor told the child's mother that it was not possible for him to read because he was afflicted with word blindness. The nerve cells that had to do with interpreting the signs that the eye reported faithfully enough, were not functioning. The child saw the signs, the marks that are letters, but he could not do anything with them after seeing them. He just saw them and nothing happened after that so he could not learn to read.

"Read to him. Stop drilling him. Tell him he needn't worry about learning to read any more. It sometimes happens that after a time the cells come to life and go to work. It may happen to this lad and it may not. We don't know. But stop drilling him and let him be happy as he is. Teach him to do as many things as he can apart from the reading of books. Encourage him a lot. Build up his health. And keep hoping without nagging him."

Word blindness is not a disease. It is a condition. Drilling won't help it. Glasses won't help it. Only the miracle of growth ever helps it and sometimes that miracle is not performed. Try to find some compensation for the afflicted child and go on from there.
